Cooper Carnival - a great success

Cooper people just can't seem to break the habit. Once again, the Cooper Winter Carnival was a complete success.

All the events, including the introduction of a 22 calibre rifle-shooting match, attracted hundreds of participants.

Both Cooper people and visitors displayed remarkable endurance throughout the weekend. Did they make it to work on Monday?

The Review editor made it to work on Monday morning, but the deadline noose closed in around his neck and nearly choked him. For that reason, the results of the euchre party, ski poker run, rifle shoot, log sawing, snowmobile poker run, dance and more will appear in next week's paper. In place of the results, however, the reader will find pictures taken at almost all the events starting Friday night and running through to Sunday. Look on pages 1, 2, 5, 7 and 10 in The Review.

Last Thursday night, Madoc residents took positive steps toward starting a Block Parent Program at a special meeting held at Madoc Public School. "Everyone is saying nothing has happened and nothing will happen to their kids. They were saying that nothing was going to happen in Orangeville, and two kids were killed. We have to set something in motion now," said Block Parent Chairman

John Hall to the group of villagers at the meeting.

He said all the village needs is some kind of program to let criminals entering the village know that "we are on the lookout", and children will know where to run in case of any emergency, without fear.

The people at the special meeting watched a movie about the Block Parent Program, asked questions of Madoc Detachment Ontario Provincial Police Officer Norm Papi and John Hall, and then picked up application forms to take home.

To be effective, the Block Parent Program needs at least two Block

Parents per village block. The people do not have to be parents, nor do they have to be home all the time. Potential people do have to pass a screening done by OPP, however, said Constable Papi.

block parent sign and go for help.

"The Block Parent Program is not the cure all for ensuring complete child safety, but it gives the child a better chance," said Papi.

He said that nothing serious has happened to a child in this community "yet", but there's no sense in waiting until something does happen.

"There's not a big time involvement either. It just takes a few meetings like this to keep the program going," Papi said.

Papi said the basic responsibilities of teachers and parents participating in the program are: to support the organization and operation of the program; to teach proper use of the program; to develop an appreciation and respect for block parents; to avoid scare tactics; to encourage memorization of address and telephone number; to teach alternatives to the Block Parent Program if an emergency arises and no block parent home is close.

Responsibilities of the block parent are: to recognize the responsibilities of the program before becoming a block parent; to follow conscientiously the instructions for block parents; and to maintain a watch on the streets.

Madoc to collect own garbage

As of March 1, Madoc village will be collecting its own garbage with its own truck and employees.

Two weeks ago Madoc council purchased an $11,000 reconditioned garbage truck and a $19,000 used loader, so village employees will be able to run their own garbage collection and waste disposal site instead of contracting the work out.

Reeve Terry Pigden said the village has had "many problems" with garbage disposal over the years and council felt it was time to more effectively utilize staff. He said village employees will have a more constant workload once they begin picking up the garbage and running the dump just outside of Madoc.

Barker Disposal has picked up Madoc's garbage for the last two years. They put a 10-bag limit on garbage each week per household. Pigden said they plan to keep that limit in effect, at least to begin with.

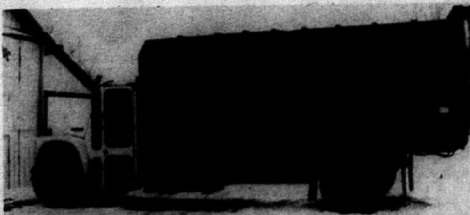

"Doing it ourselves will mean more efficient use of the landfill site, which appears to be necessary because of the capacity left," Pigden said.

The landfill site work has been contracted out to Richard Jones Construction over the past few years.

Another advantage to having village employees at the landfill site, said Pigden, is that workers will know and recognize who is using it. There have been suspicions that people from outside the area have been using the dump.

As of March 5, garbage pickup in the village of Madoc will be on Tuesdays, rather than Wednesdays.

In the long term, council said the garbage pickup will cost less than when it was contracted out. But in the meantime, the new equipment has to be paid for.

Pictured above is the reconditioned garbage truck Madoc council purchased, and plan to begin using for our pick-up March 1. On March 5, the garbage pick-up in the village will be on Tuesdays. Seen below is Village

Foreman Percy Crawford with the new loader to be used at the waste disposal site.

Madoc Reeve Terry Pigden rose at the meeting and said Madoc's council would be willing to provide funds for signs to be posted at the village limits, that will show it is a Block

Parent community.
These signs could help deter criminals.

John Hall said costs to run the program are virtually nil. He said he has asked for $1 from block parents to cover costs for the sign to be

The program still needs more block

A little humor

Star Wars

By Neville Edwards

For many years I have scoffed at those who arrange their lives according to the stars. Even a smart fellow like Julius Caesar used to throw feathers over his shoulder to find out if he should engage the enemy in battle. At one point however, his own personal soothsayer forecast:
"A great army will win today". Naturally old Julius figured it was HIS army, and got quite upset when the enemy licked the living Judas out of him.

Anyway a couple of weeks ago, for want of anything better to do, I read one of those astrology things - and found I'd been dead wrong about this sort of thing. "Tomorrow you will be acknowledged by someone in authority". Sure as shot just as I was entering the supermarket the next morning, Constable Hicks announced, "Good morning Sir". Then again, "You will make a large investment towards the end of the week
- and be glad you did!" Right once again! I made a huge investment when buying the week's groceries and of course I was glad when I considered the alternative of starvation.

"A relative passes away at the end of next week". Right on again. As a matter of fact, a relative passes away at the end of every week, in addition to the beginning and the middle also.
From what I can figure, they put all the names in a hat and draw who goes first. I know my name's there, but so far I've been lucky.

"On the 20th, beware of changing moods of spouse!" Holy Catfish they weren't kidding because I caught particular hell at least seven times instead of the usual two or three. "You will be having unusual visitors". Sure enough I opened the front door to a couple who seemed to think I should be born again. I told them that I had enough trouble the first time and I had neither the patience nor endurance to have another go at it. HOWEVER we had other strange visitors the same night. Six butter tarts left on the kitchen table disappeared and the rodents involved left their calling cards all over the place. I phoned the landlord who amidst peals of hysterical laughter, announced there would be no increase in rent for the additional tenants. Anything I like it's a wise guy! They were darned good butter tarts too.

"Pay particular attention to your car on Wednesday". Right again. The previous day I had driven into the village and walked home.
The next morning I looked for the car in its usual place and it wasn't there. THAT resulted in another mood change on the part of my spouse - one they hadn't forecast. "On Friday you will find you are attracting men like flies". At that point I realized I was reading a woman's magazine - or I hoped I was anyway. All I got out of that one was that I noticed a couple of weird looking guys following me down Yonge Street in Toronto that day.

To top everything off however, I read, "Your Jupiter is ascending into Mars and Venus is crossing Saturn but right now, you're having trouble with Uranus." Now I'll admit I was sitting on a pretty hard chair but...

HOW DID THEY KNOW THAT?

IODE celebrates 85th anniversary

February 13, 1985 is the 85th Anniversary of the founding of IODE. This uniquely Canadian organization is as old as the century, but has kept pace with the changes 85 years have brought to Canada.

From an organization based on foundations of patriotism, loyalty and service, committed to supporting Canadian soldiers serving in the Boer War, IODE has evolved into a Canada-wide organization whose 15,000 members raise and spend more than $1.6 million annual on social service, education and citizen programmes.

IODE is proud to announce the establishment of the "National Chapter IODE Book Award". This award of $3,000.00 will be offered annually for the best English language book (preferably with Canadian content), suitable for children up to age 15. To be eligible, the book must have been written by a Canadian citizen and published in Canada.

The first award will be presented in May, 1985.

IODE is a Canadian volunteer organization for women, founded in Canada in 1900.

stands at 15,000, in 60 chapters in communities across Canada.

The National Chapter initiates its own projects, provides direction, and establishes citizenship, education and social service programmes in which all chapters may participate. The Provincial and Municipal Chapters perform the same function in their respective provinces and cities.

Over $1.6 million is raised and spent annually. The major portion of this money is directed to local community work, with the remainder going toward National and Provincial projects.

Federal Government prepares

Dangerous goods safety regulations

New safety regulations designed to govern the handling and movement of dangerous goods across the country have been prepared by the federal government.

In making the announcement, January 24, Transport Minister Don Mazankowski said future co-operation from all parties involved in the handling and shipping of dangerous materials will promote the effectiveness of the regulations.

"I think everybody involved in moving dangerous goods across Canada understands the importance of full co-operation for a safe operating environment," the minister said.

The minister also announced that he has created a 22-member advisory council on the transportation of dangerous goods pursuant to section 29 of the Transportation of Dangerous Goods Act.

Chaired by Ken Thornycroft, Inspector General of Transportation Safety with Transport Canada, the advisory council held its first meeting Jan. 24. Among subjects discussed were co-ordination of emergency response action and development of training programs for industry groups.

Benoit Bouchard, Minister of State for Transport, addressed the meeting. He said the council will be invaluable in keeping the ministers informed on dangerous goods issues.

"It's well-rounded with members from the safety associations, industry and unions and government," Mr. Bouchard said.

The new regulations are to be published shortly in the Canada

Gazette and will take effect in stages, allowing shippers, handlers and carriers time to adjust. Many of the regulations being replaced were narrowly focused and did not cover all areas.

Regulations that take effect upon publication deal with interpretation; directions for protecting

Thank You!

I would like to thank all my family and friends for the kindness, consideration and prayers bestowed upon me during my stay in hospitals and my convalescence at home. Special thanks to Dr. C. Derry and Rev. Father Fleury.

Woods, water and wildlife

BY Mike Singleton
Backdropped by winter's chill, there's a romance to lazing before a crackling fire, watching logs roar up the chimney. But, for those who'll pause a moment, that firewood has another - even more interesting - story to tell.

Every piece recounts tales. Of dry summers and wet. Of forest fires and insects. Many recount lightning strikes, or bitterly cold days when frost burst the tree's very heart.

Others tell of life's little mysteries. Of special adaptations. Or complete little-world microcosms, with fascinating, predatory beetles and prey, and finely structured animal communities.

Take a lowly piece of elm, now in my hand, sawn from the crumbling giant 'out back'. In remarkable measure, it can recount its complete life history, precisely because it laid down a new ring of wood every growing season. Looking carefully, the large rings recount long, wet springs. And the tell-tale, little layers of the drought years in the '20s and '40s. The unmistakable black overlain by years of crinoline-like scar recall the forest fires of 1875 and 1922, and the tree's struggle to recover. A sudden spurt of growth that began when the tree was 11 years, suggests that a neighbouring tree fell - perhaps in a mighty storm - allowing growth light through the forest canopy. And the sudden spurt, which endured the tree's last 20 years, tells of agricultural clearing, which freed more water for this elm's growth.

It's sobering to realize that many such trees were already growing when development of the province began. Indeed, at confederation, many of today's stately giants were already in middle age.

I feel a certain remorse when a tree of such stature dies. Yet, the death of a single, old tree is not necessarily sad, nor the end of the tree's role in nature. To the contrary, the periodic death of such individual trees allows rejuvenation and helps to maintain the forests as a patchwork quilt of different habitats. That patchwork, in turn, provides the very basis for diversity, and health, of countless species. Moreover, as these crumbling behemoths slowly rot back into earthen substance, they too provide habitat.

For hares and rabbits, and countless other small mammals which take shelter, feed or reproduce in their hollows. For grouse, thrashers and chickadees - and literally dozens of other birds - which use the logs as ladders and nesting sites. For the predators, which depend upon these mammals and birds. And for reptiles and salamanders, whose very survival is based upon the rich buffet afforded by the creeping seething mass of invertebrate life which gnaws and saws, hunts and flees, all within the log's steely shell.

Forests, clearly, are much more than short-term tree crops. Rather, they are vibrant ecosystems, hundreds - or even thousands - of years in the making. They also make the point - to all who will listen - that we should be managing our forests not so much for us as for our grandchildren.

That next piece of firewood has a tale to tell.

I will be glad

By George Clay Lloyd

I will be glad in the morning
When I rise to seek the day.
That the great round sun is rising O'er the hilltops far away;
That my sleep all night was peaceful,
And sweet was the rest I had
All these are cause for gladness
And so I will just be glad.

I will be glad in the evening
When the sun is sinking low.
That the day has brought no evil
That I could not overthrow;
That though I was sorely tempted
I did not that which was bad -
All these are cause for gladness
And so I will just be glad.

I will be glad as I journey
Along the pathway of life,
That I helped the weary pilgrim
Ready to faint from the strife;
That I helped the sick and needy,
And cheered the ones who were sad -
All these are cause for gladness
And so I will just be glad.

I will be glad when the reaper Shall come to garner me in,
That I always scattered sunshine
To strangers, my kith and kin;
That I left undone no duty;
That I have the best I had -
All these are cause for gladness
And so I will just be glad.

'Lively Library'

KOMPASS

Never a dull moment and never a quiet corner seems to be the theme at the Madoc Public Library.

First, there is the children's Valentine contest. Val the lonely puppy, will soon move into the Boys and Girls' Room to collect cards. The children's room will provide a snug, warm home for this fellow.

Insulation has been put in the outside basement wall and the windows have been caulked. Insulation is also being put into the ceiling. The room should be much less draughty; therefore, it will be a pleasant place for the activities that the library is now providing.

In January there was a rug braiding course taught by assistant librarian, Irene Newland. The eleven ladies met either Tuesday evening or Wednesday afternoon for two hours. This was the Ministry of Agriculture and Food course.

Each participant has learned how to rip, sew and fold strips of fabric. Then the braiding begins. Strong hands are an asset! To finish off, the strips are laced, not sewn together. This has been fun, interesting and a challenge.

Everyone ended up with a golden brown hot pad from materials that the library supplied.

Now the challenge each lady is to make an article of her own choice using the skills she's just learned. This is where the library improvements will truly be felt; for although the lessons are over, any braiders are invited to the library to work on their projects for the April show in Stirling. A little fellowship, a chance to look at the library's rug hooking books, or to consult the instructor.

Wednesday afternoons are open to braiders as well as readers.

Friday, February 8, will be another busy day at the library for there will be a children's valentine-making program. These cards will not be entered in Val's basket but will be taken home for someone special.

Queensboro News

The Senior Citizens from here who went on the bus to Belleville on Monday were: Mrs. Bernice Clarke, Evelyn Lynn, Jessie Holmes, Margaret Rollins and Holdie Holmes. They attended the show "The Other Side of the Mountain, Part 2".

Pentecostal anniversary

Madoc Pentecostal Church will celebrate its 26th anniversary on Sunday, February 10, with two special services. They are at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. with "Allan Near" of Frankford and the "Endtime Gospel Singers". They will minister in sermon and song at both services.

An anniversary dinner will be served in the lining hall immediately following the morning service for members and visiting friends.

Madoc Pentecostal Church was dedicated to the service of God in 1959.

The church, over the past five years, has undergone a number of renovations. Recently, the basement kitchen, hall, and dining area floors have been covered with wall-to-wall carpet by Joe Cox Discount Carpet, Belleville.

The Pastor and congregation give you a special invitation to attend these anniversary services.

The Ontario Federation of Agriculture (OFA) is encouraging farmers not to let representatives from the Ministry of Natural Resources (MNR) enter their property to conduct wetlands evaluations.

OFA objects to MNR wetlands evaluation

"The OFA recognizes the value of wetlands and the need to protect them, but we're worried that MNR's approach puts too much burden on the farmers and the municipalities," Jack Wilkinson, OFA's second vice-president and its past representative to the Ontario Conservation Council, said from his farm in Camlachie January 22, 1985. MNR is in the final stages of developing a wetlands policy. It is proposing to classify all wetlands according to a recently developed evaluation system and to require all municipalities to recognize wetlands in their Official Plans and zoning by-laws.

"The OFA has been negotiating with MNR for years," Wilkinson said, "but we still don't have straight answers on what the proposals mean for individual landowners. It may well mean that farmers won't be able to develop or improve their own land."

For example, he said, if farmers want to use wetlands as an outlet for municipal drainage works, it's likely they'll have to seal the drain at their own expense. Or if a landowner wants to develop part of his property which has been designated a wetland, he will have to seek an amendment to the municipality's Official Plan. If the wetland is a significant one, MNR may intervene to protect it or have restrictions placed on its development. "These costs and delays will probably have to be borne by the landowner," Wilkinson said. "That's the reason we're asking farmers not to co-operate with MNR until they give us some answers." Ministry officials must ask the landowner for permission to enter his property. Wilkinson is asking farmers not to allow them on their property and to charge them under the Trespass Act if they go ahead.

The OFA is also asking all rural municipalities to join them in their protest. "The municipalities are expected to include wetlands in their Official Plans, but aren't being provided with standard policies. This will lead to inconsistency and poor public understanding of the goals of the ministry's program," Wilkinson said.

The OFA is demanding the following from the MNR: a reasonable evaluation system; an approach which recognizes the essential role of the property owner in protecting these resources; protection for surrounding land uses; compensation for the individual property owner; protection for agricultural drainage works.

Wetlands are natural habitats such as marshes, swamps, and bogs, which support rare animal and plant species. At present, MNR is classifying the remaining 80 per cent of privately-held wetlands.

OFA to visit Parliament Hill

Parliament Hill will be the site for the Ontario Federation of Agriculture's (OFA) next big lobbying campaign. At a regular monthly meeting held in Toronto January 16, 1985, the OFA's Board of Directors decided they would be visiting their members of parliament en masse on Thursday, January 31.

"This is an opportune time to go," OFA president Harry Pelissiero said. "Since the election of the new federal government, agriculture has been highly visible. A trip to Ottawa will help maintain that visibility and give us a chance to reinforce with our members of parliament that agriculture can and does play a vital role in rebuilding Canada's economy," he said.

About 150 farmers, representing most of Ontario's counties and regions, will assemble in Ottawa and will attend personal meetings with as many members of parliament as possible. In June of 1984, during a similar activity at Queen's Park, 130 farmers paid personal calls on the members of the provincial parliament. The campaign received a good response from the elected officials and from the participants.

January is "an ideal time to concentrate on our federal representatives," Pelissiero said. "Once a new premier is chosen in Ontario and a new agriculture minister is appointed, the OFA will have to focus on provincial matters. Besides, there's a federal budget due, and Prime Minister Brian Mulroney has said he wants to hear from the people when his government formulates policy. He can count on the OFA and its members to be part of that dialogue."

Pelissiero said the visiting farmers will also be discussing the election promises made to the farm sector, the recommendations from the federal-provincial Task Force on Agriculture and the government's decision on Canagrex.

Ellen Gervais appointment

Ellen Gervais of Corbyville has been appointed to the Hastings and Prince Edward Housing Authority, Municipal Affairs and Housing Minister Claude Bennett announced recently.

Gervais, the administrator of the H.J. MacFarland Memorial Home for the Aged in Picton, will serve as a county representative on the 11-member authority that manages Ontario Housing Corporation's 1,229 assisted housing units in Bancroft, Belleville, Deseronto, Frankford, Madoc, Marmora, Picton, Stirling, Trenton and Tweed.

The federal, provincial and municipal governments nominate individuals for appointment to the housing authorities by provincial orders-in-council. The province appoints the housing authority chairman.

The day-to-day management of OHC's 84,000 housing units is carried out by local housing authorities, although the primary responsibility for assisted housing remains with OHC.

OHC chairman Allan Moses said, "By volunteering their time to serve on the local housing authority, private citizens such as Gervais are helping to ensure that Ontario's assisted housing program is sensitive and can respond to the needs of the many communities it serves."

The Hastings and Prince Edward Housing Authority manages 902 senior citizen assisted housing units and 327 units for low-income families. The authority also provides housing for physically-disabled and mentally-retarded persons who are capable of living on their own.

FCC reducing interest rates

Agriculture Minister John Wise announced January 21, that Farm Credit Corporation Canada (FCC) is reducing its interest rates. Effective Jan. 21, loans approved under the Farm Credit Act with a five-year term carry an interest rate of 12 3/4 per cent. The previous rate, 13 1/4 per cent, had been in effect since December 10, 1984.

"Farm Credit Corporation has been able to reduce its interest rates because the cost of the funds it borrows has declined. This reduction is consistent with the interest rate established last week for the conversion of high interest rate FCC loans to 12 3/4 per cent. I am pleased that the trend towards lower interest rates is continuing," said Mr. Wise.

Farm Credit Act loans with a ten-year term now have an interest rate of 15 5/8 per cent compared to the prior rate of 15 5/8 per cent. The interest rate on loans with a twenty-year term is 15 5/8 per cent compared to the previous rate of 14 per cent.

Loans under the Farm Synrates Credit Act will carry an interest rate of 12 3/4 per cent, down from 13 1/4 per cent.

Minnesota mushers sweep 150 mile race

Don McEwen of Eldorado was only 10 minutes off the course record he set in 1981 in this year's edition of the Marmora Cup 150-mile long distance race, but he could still do no better than fifth place in the race this year. It was a Minnesota sweep as four Minnesota mushers took the first four places with each of them bettering the former course record.

A. Jorgenson of Minnesota won the prestigious Marmora Cup in 17 hours, 50 minutes, bettering the old mark by three hours and one minute. If that sounds incredible, Peter Sapin, the second place finisher, predicted at the awards ceremony on Sunday that the race would be run in under 16 hours within two years.

Sapin was credited by Jorgenson for the fact that the times were so quick this year. "He set the pace and the rest of us just tried to stay with him as long as we could," said Jorgenson.

Jorgenson was impressed with the Marmora race, especially the trails. "The trails were just great," he said. "This race is destined to become a very popular race among mushers. Everything was perfect here which allowed the race to be run the way it should be - between the dogs - and mine just happened to come in first."

Sapin crossed the finish line in 18 hours, three minutes and 25 seconds, just 15 and a half minutes behind Jorgenson. But if you think that was close, the third place finisher, Dave Olesen, crossed the line in 18 hours, three minutes and 28 seconds, only THREE seconds behind Sapin. Don't forget that these teams have just run 150 miles and they finished three seconds apart.

R. Waage of Minnesota was fourth in 19 hours, 26 minutes and five seconds. Don McEwen crossed the line in 21 hours, one minute and 35 seconds for fifth place. Don had a bit of trouble in Zion on Saturday night as he forgot to sign in and had to return. He lost about 15 minutes altogether. At the awards ceremony, he said he was proud to run in a race against competitors like the Minnesota mushers.

Even with the fast times, the race was special in another way this year. For the first time in the history of the race, every starter finished the race, and even the losing time was fast.

Other finishers included T. Sopher of Chesley (21/34/40), I. McKenzie of Bruce Mines (22/57/54), J. Gannon, New York (22/59/21), B. Shaw, Michigan (23/40/57), B. Hoyte, New York (26/45/0), L. McEwen, Michigan (27/32/49), G. McEwen, Eldorado (28/6/43).

Mushers in the long distance race had nothing but praise for the race and its organizers. While Jorgenson was predicting good things for the future of the Marmora race, Sapin also said good things and possibly gave everyone a hint as to why this race has become so popular.

top of their list, and that's a good feeling. I think you'll see us back in another year and I'm thinking this race will be run in under 16 hours in a couple of years."

All Ontario Five-Dog Sprints

The all-Ontario five-dog sprint races held both Saturday and Sunday had 38 teams taking part with Maurice Poirier placing first with a total time of 54 minutes and 38 seconds. The seven-mile course was in good shape and seemed very popular with the racers.

Placing second was Andrea Parent with a time of 55 minutes and 10 seconds, while Robert Sabourin placed third with a time of 55 minutes and 36 seconds.

Competition had been dropping off in the sprint races in recent years so the race officials made some changes this year. They reduced the course to seven miles and supplied one of the fastest courses and best weather ever for a race. The racers were appreciative of their efforts.

The re-birth of popularity of the sprints meant that race fans could watch the start of the sprints and then wait approximately 10 minutes and see the racers come back in off the course. Large enthusiastic crowds were always on hand to welcome the racers back to the finish line.

28 starters Molson Classic

Springbrook man wins 60 mile race

Local favorite Bob Allen defeated his closest rival by nearly 28 minutes in the 60-mile Molson Classic mid-distance race held on Saturday. Bob crossed the finish line in eight hours, six minutes and three seconds.

Placing second in the field of 28 starters was Curtis Gagnon with a time of eight hours, 35 minutes and 49 seconds. Mel Milliron, the man who placed second to Bob Allen in Pennsylvania two weeks ago, was third in the Marmora race with a time of eight hours, 36 minutes and 12 seconds.

Allen was ecstatic after the race. "It was just beautiful out there," he said. "The trail was perfect, the weather couldn't have been better and my dogs were in fine shape. I pushed them hard but I think they could have done better now that I see them after the race."

At the awards banquet on Sunday, Allen stated that Brenda Sedgwick, his handler, deserved as much credit for the win as he and his dogs did.

Curtis Gagnon said it all in his speech at the awards ceremony. "This is a great race, a great committee, a great town and you're great people," he said to the audience.

Mel Milliron was even more enthusiastic about the race. "This is really a great race," he said. "This is my first time in Canada. I've never seen anything like this," he said pointing to the crowd. "Look at all the people. This is great."

Other local favorites in the race included Jonathon McEwen who placed seventh in nine hours, 59 minutes and 40 seconds. Brian Heald crossed the finish line in 12 hours, 31 minutes and two seconds for position number sixteen. Doug Lake of Bannockburn, in his first race ever, crossed the line at 14 hours, 20 minutes and 50 seconds for 23rd place.

Ian Richardson and Jason Bailey both registered hat tricks in the first three games of their round robin league play-offs. In the opening game against Marmora Pee-wees the boys watched a 4-0 lead diminish to one goal before they scored the two insurance markers.

Goal scorers for Madoc were Ian Richardson with 3 goals and one assist. Derek Wood with 2 goals and Jeff Sawkins with a goal and 3 assists. Jason Bailey had 3 assists, single assists went to Clayton Curl, Bob Bronson and Shawn Chapman.

Scoring for Marmora were Andy Meers, John Croskery and Doug Fluke. Assists were counted by Robbie Cole, Bernie Cassidy, John Croskery and Evan Robinson.

The second game saw a 4-1 decision over Colborne. Richardson opened the scoring at 11:04 from Bailey and Sawkins, 45 seconds later, a two man break away resulted in Colborne scoring.

At 11:40 of the second Bailey scored unassisted and Derek Wood scored the third marker at 4:14. The last goal in the game was scored at 14:04 of the third by Jason Bailey from Jeff Sawkins.

On Wednesday evening, a very tired team met an equally tired crew from Tweed but managed to come out with their third win. Shots on goal were 23 for Tweed - 25 for Madoc.

Madoc opened the scoring in the first when Jeff Sawkins found the mark, assisted by Jason Bailey and Ian Richardson. In the second, Madoc went into a four goal lead before Tweed found the mark. These goals were recorded by Bailey with two and Sawkins with one. Sawkins (2), Bailey (1), Ian Richardson (1) and Jim Bonter (2) registered assists. Hunt from Bancroft and Drain scored for Tweed.

In the third, a shot from the point by Shawn Chapman included Tweed's goalie. This goal was assisted by Mark Deering and Marty Shaw, who was in goal for the game. A minute and a half later Jason Bailey scored an unassisted goal to put Madoc into a 5-1 lead. This appeared to be the way the score was to end, when an elusive puck found the mark at 0:01 for Tweed's second marker.

Mid-way in their play-off round, Madoc have six points, with three games left to play.

Saturday, January 26

Norwood visited Havelock to play what turned out to be one of the closest games Havelock's had this year, with only 5:05 left in the first period, Jeff Van Allen scored, assisted by Glen Ford and Brian Gratton. This goal was the only goal of the whole game, with Jamie Gratton in net letting nothing by as Norwood continuously kept trying.

Sunday, January 27

Hastings came to Havelock to an exhibition game with Havelock defeating Hastings 6-1. First period goals were scored by Billy Larcomber of Hastings, unassisted at 8:25, then Lee Reynolds for Havelock scored at 6:43 assisted by Glenn Ford to tie the score.

The second period proved to be a good one for Havelock as they scored two more goals. The first at 6:23 when Danny Rutherford scored from Jamie Fitzpatrick and Dale Watson, the second goal was by Lee Reynolds' again from Glenn Ford with 5:1 left in the period.

The third period was quiet till 45 seconds left in the game, when defenseman Danny Rofey scored assisted by Blair Emery. Soon to follow was Todd Drain from Danny Rutherford at 38 only 10 to do the same thing at 29 left in the period.

The Atoms are having an excellent year so far with 10 wins, three ties and only three losses.

Next game is Saturday, February 2 at 7:00 p.m. against Hastings here in Havelock. Come out and watch these boys give it all they have for Havelock.

Marmora Midget playoffs

BY SUSAN M. CUDDY

On January 30th, the Marmora Midgets defeated Tweed 5-1, to win their first group round. The number one star of the night was Kevin Terrior who scored three goals and got one assist.

Chad McCurdy and Steve Bedore scored Marmora's two other goals. Assists went to Kelly Cook (2), Craig Nobes (1), Dwayne Bertrand (1), and Steve Pascoe (1).

Marmora must now meet Stirling in a three-out-of-five series. The first game was on Sunday, Feb. 3, at Stirling with Marmora the victors 7-3.

Craig Nobes was the worker in this game with two goals and one assist. Dwayne Bertrand followed with two goals. Kevin Terrior had one goal and two assists. Kelly Cook scored unassisted and Tim Cassidy, assisted by Jeff Clemens.

Stirling comes to Marmora Friday night for game number two.

Pizza, pizza, pizza

By Isabella Shaw

With chants of "Pizza, Pizza, Pizza" ringing in the arena, the Madoc Pee Wees won their opening round play-off series and with it the league.

The game was close for the first two periods with a 2-1 score at the end of the periods. Madoc led 2-0, with Jason Frances opening the scoring. Colborne's Nical Clary counted for the Colborne team with less than two minutes left in the second period.

But after a five minute breather, the locals proved just as they have so often this year, that they are a third period team, and scored four unanswered goals to put the game away by a 6-1 score. Madoc outshot Colborn 29-12 and showed that their hectic play-off schedule didn't dull their defensive and offensive attack.

Goal scorers were Jason Bailey, Jason Francis, and Ian Ketcheson. Sorry I don't have the game sheets for all point getters.

After the victorious team returned to Madoc, they were treated to pizzas at the hotel by Mr. Bill Lahey. A treat everyone enjoyed. The lads will now play a best two out of three with Norwood.

Hastings Peewees exciting playoffs

The Hastings Pee-wees have brought some excitement into the village for the first time this year. They lead their playoff series with Warkworth two games to one after three exciting games last week.

The highlight of the action was an overtime shootout in Hastings last Thursday night in which Hastings edged Warkworth 9-8. The game was a seesaw battle from the outset. Warkworth's standout center Wayne Clark who single handedly eliminated Hastings from Atom playoffs two years ago started the scoring with an unassisted effort at 11:48.

Warkworth's Cliff Rough widened the margin assisted by Gareth Evans at 5:45. It looked like Warkworth was going to take its two goal lead into the second period until Kirk Fleming, the Hastings captain, scored at 2:25 assisted by Brian McMillan and again at 0:57 assisted by McMillan and Dean Christian tying the score.

Hastings went ahead 15 seconds later on a goal by McMillan assisted by Paul Seeneey. Clarke who scored six goals on the other night tied the score at three at 10:52 of the second assisted by Steve Vickers. He then put his team ahead at 2:52 unassisted before McMillan put a pass from P.J. Scudds by the Warkworth goaltender. Then Clarke closed the period with yet another

Clarke who scored six goals that night tied the score at three at 10:52 of the second assisted by Steve Vickers. He then put his team ahead at 2:52 unassisted before McMillan put a pass from P.J. Scudds by the Warkworth goaltender. Then Clarke closed the period with yet another unassisted effort at

McMillan opened the scoring for Hastings in the third period with an unassisted counter at 12:15. Justin Ducey came back for Warkworth at 11:50 assisted by, who else, but Wayne Clarke.

The scoring actually stopped for five minutes before McMillan put in two more for Hastings at 7:25 assisted by Fleming and Gary Laughlin and at 6:42 assisted by William Howson putting Hastings ahead by one.

But, with 4:50 on the clock, Clarke scored tie and send the game into overtime.

McMillan scored again at the 2:50 mark of overtime unassisted and eight seconds later Laughlin scored as well. Continued on page 6A

PLAYOFFS

Lynch's Peewees
The Norwood Peewee team opened their best three-out-five OMHA series at home Fri. February 1st, hosting Madoc. In this contest the locals jumped into an early lead and never looked back as they blanked Madoc 7-0.

Goalenders: D. Crawford and J. Sanford, earned the shut-out.
Goals by: Dave Crowley and Eddie Walsh with singles; with Blair Miles with two; and David Stewart added three. Assists to: E. Walsh 3, G. Snetinger 1, A. Hamilton 1, T. Murray 1, and D. Crowley 1.

Home Hardware Ban-tams

The local Ban-tams also opened their best three-out-five OMHA playoffs at home against Madoc. This game was a little different from the Peewee game, as these teams seemed evenly matched. There was no scoring until the 5:34 mark of the second period with Madoc lighting the scoreboard. They managed two more in this period to take a 3-0 lead on the locals.

The third period saw the locals come up with two goals but these proved of little value as they went down to defeat by a 3-2 count.

Scoring: Tim Ryan, assisted by T. Pearty; then Duane Gee from J. Crawford and T. Ryan.

Terjoleen Midgets

The Norwood Midgets were also in OMHA playoff action. The locals opened their best-of-five at home playing host to Lakefield.

This game was quite lopsided as the locals were soundly defeated 12-3.

Scoring were: Jamie Patterson, assisted by B. Doherty and K. Hamblin; Terry Cation from R. McGaffin and B. Wilde; then Bryan Doherty from G. Chamberlain.

Home Hardware Ban-tams

The Norwood Ban-tams were on the road to Madoc for the second game of their playoffs. In this contest the locals were outscored by a 10-1 count by the host center.

This loss sees the locals trailing in the series two games to zero. The third game returns to Madoc on Mon. Feb. 4th.

Lone scorer was Mike Payne from R. Blackburn and C. Townshend.

Stirling Novice Blues league play

In regular league play on Tuesday, January 29th, the Novice Blues were defeated two to one by Frankford.

Frankford's goalie Brian Wilson made numerous saves keeping Stirling down to only one goal being scored by Greg Barr, with assists going to Darryl Dafoe and Scott Haines.

On Friday, February 1, Stirling was again defeated 4 to 1 by Madoc. Stirling's only goal was scored unassisted by Greg Barr.

Our Novice Blues were in tournament play on Saturday, Feb. 2, in Frankford, where we were the A-championship finalists. The boys played super hockey and were a team to be proud of.

In game one, Stirling faced Ernestown coming out with a 2-0 victory. Stirling's first goal was fired into the net by Greg Barr, unassisted. Matthew Cooke made a super pass from the corner out to Neil Watson, who fired in Stirling's second goal to clinch the win. Congratulations Greg Woodbeck and Greg Barr who were named the game stars.

In game two, Stirling faced Frankford and what a super hockey game ending in a five-minute overtime period. With Stirling down 1-0 and six minutes remaining in the game, Trevor Spry made an excellent pass to Greg Barr who fired in the tying goal. Time ran out for both teams and overtime it had to be. With one minute and four seconds remaining, Greg Barr passed the puck on to the stick of Trevor Cooney who pounded the puck into the net. Stirling fans went wild as did our Novice team. They worked hard and certainly deserved the win.

Congratulations to Greg Barr who was presented with the MVP award and to Scott Haines and Trevor Spry on being named the game stars.

In game three of the A championship finals, our Novice team faced strong opposition from Gananogue, who had not had one goal scored against them in their prior two games and so it prevailed as they downed Stirling 8-0. Congratulations to Trevor Cooney on being presented with the MVP award and to Darryl Dafoe and Bobby Allen on being named the game stars for their fine defensive play.

Madoc ties Marmora 1-1

BY ISABELLA SHAW

Tim Bailey scored the only goal for Madoc Atoms on Friday evening as Madoc tied Marmora 1-1 in league play.

This goal scored at 3:18 of the first was assisted by Derek Davidson and Todd Matthews.

The Atoms also played to their second tie for the year in a 2-2 decision to Colborne during the Brighton tournament. Goal scorers were Tim Bailey and Brad Phillips with assists going to Phillips and Hobson.

A CHANGE OF SHOES ADVISABLE?

Yes, change shoes and hosiery at least once a day. You will find it is very refreshing and gives you a definite lift! Shoes are de-

purposes. Use the ap-purpose. If you stand for long periods on your shoes with low heels.

The shoes worn by

Take the greatest care

in fitting your shoes. Do not depend on size or

Stirling Atoms take Ernestown tourney with still no losses

We are the Champions!

On February 1, 2, and 3, Ernestown was the center for a 16-team Atom tournament. The teams were split into four divisions, each playing a round robin series. Stirling won 2 games and tied one for five points, putting them into the semi-finals.

Friday evening, Stirling shut out the Belleville Minors 7-0. Stirling goals were scored by Torrance, 2, McMullen, 2, Manlow, Donohoe and Cooney. Assistants went to Torrance, 2, Reid, 2, MacRae, McMullen and Striker. MVP award was presented to Eric Manlow.

Saturday, Cooney Farms Blues defeated Kingston Township 3-1 for their second win. Torrance from Manlow and Rutan put in the only first period goal. Manlow from Torrance doubled the score. Torrance, assisted by McMullen, fired in the third. Kingston put their point on the board in the last period. Trevor Torrance received the MVP award for the game.

Stirling tied Godfrey 5-3 in the final game of the round robin. There was exciting end-to-end hockey. Godfrey tallied first. Early in the second frame, Torrance from Rutan and Manlow evened the score. Torrance, assisted by Manlow and McMullen put Stirling in the lead. Stirling held Godfrey off until 4:35 in the third frame, when the score was evened again. Jeff MacRae scored on a breakaway to regain the lead but before the fans had finished cheering, Godfrey fired in a goal. The game ended in a tie, but because Stirling led in total points, they proceeded to the semi-finals. Jeff MacRae was presented with the MVP award.

The Blues played well against Pickering Sunday morning. Reid, Moore, Ellis and Rutan were outstanding on defense. Rob Donohoe netted Stirling's first goal. Torrance from Manlow completed their play for the second period goal. MacRae from Ellis brought the final score to 5-0 at the close of the third frame. Rob Donohoe earned the MVP award.

The championship game was against a superb Cobourg team. Before the opening faceoff, the arena was in darkness. The spotlight shone on each player while being introduced to the spectators. However, the Stirling stars shone the brightest as they shut out Cobourg 2-0.

With both teams playing strong positional hockey, it was a close encounter until the final buzzer had sounded. The first goal was not scored until 1:37 of the middle frame. Rob Donohoe did the honors. Late in the final period Torrance from Manlow and McMullen, put in the insurance goal. Scott Sharp received the MVP award for his excellent goal-tending.

Each member of the team received 'Grand Championship' trophies for their excellent performance. Congratulations Stirling Cooney Farm Atom Blues. The Blues have gone undefeated for 35 games straight!

 assisted by McMillan and Christian. Clarke responded for Warkworth unassisted at 2:06 but Hastings hung on to win 9 to 8.

On Sunday night Hastings looked like a different team playing on the larger ice surface in Warkworth. They buzzed around the Warkworth net in the opening minutes and set the tone for the rest of the game. They appeared to have difficulty finishing plays and making passes.

The tide turned on them with a minute left in the opening period

Then, only seconds later at 0:26, Clarke

scored his first of the game assisted by the goalie Kevin Cooney. The second period featured end-to-end play until 4:27 when Clarke scored his second of the night assisted by Dave Hamilton and Rough, followed by a goal by Evans assisted by the same two.

In the third period Hastings took the game to the Warkworth end and pressed but again ineffective passing was their downfall although they did manage to score on a shot by Kirk Fleming assisted by Christian and McMillan at 13:01 and again at 13:31 by Bobby Ward assisted by Fleming and McMillan.

The final goal of the 5-2 match was scored by Don Young of Warkworth on an empty net.

The first game of the series was dominated by Hastings who won on goals by McMillan, Christian and Jeremy Young with Jason Bennett posting the only marker for Warkworth. The series continues this week.

Action was tough in front of the Warkworth net

Madoc Atoms undefeated

By Isabella Shaw

Madoc Atoms ended a perfect undefeated season by defeating Marmora 6-0 in their last scheduled league game.

Both teams were scoreless until 1:52 of the second when Tom Burnside scored his first two goals, assisted by Brad Phillips and Scott Tracey.

In the third, Madoc added five unanswered goals. Brad Phillips from Tom Burnside and Scott Tracey; Burnside from Phillips and Tracey; Phillips from Tracey and Hobson; Phillips from Tracey and Tracey from Phillips.

It is interesting to note that both Brad Phillips and Scott Tracey figured in all six goals. Charlie Brownson recorded the shutout.

So the Atoms finish the schedule undefeated in league play. Sad note here is the fact that Todd Matthews suffered a dislocated shoulder during the game and will be out of action for two or three weeks. Speedy recovery wishes for Todd.

OMAF focus changed

Hastings County Agriculture Representative Dave Little says Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food has the ongoing responsibility of "bringing new technology and information to farmers."

"The main thrust of our job in these times is to help farmers in business and financial decisions and that means encouraging them to keep better records and use these records to guide them in making capital investments," he says.

Little took over as Agriculture Representative at Stirling OMAF office last November after Doug Tipper retired.

In 1961 Little graduated from University of Guelph Animal-Science Course, and then went to work on his family dairy farm in Victoria County near Lindsay. He farmed there until 1967, and then went to work for the ministry in Renfrew County as associate agriculture representative. Five years later he was promoted to agriculture representative and remained in the position for 12 years. In January 1984, Little took a position as farm business advisor based in Lindsay. His responsibility was to serve central Ontario, which meant a lot of travelling.

"Becoming a farm business advisor was a promotion, but it involved a lot of speaking at different functions and a lot of travelling, which I didn't like as much," says Little. "I wanted to go back to work on a more localized basis, and with more familiar people."

That decision brought Little to Hastings County. He came into the area in late August as a farm management specialist and worked with Doug Tipper until his retirement. Little then filled the vacant position left by Tipper.

Little says there has been a pronounced shift in the focus of OMAF activities in recent years. They have gone from being the main source of information for farmers with production problems, to being one of a number of qualified sources.

"One of the changing aspects of the rural community is that farmers have more and more sources of qualified information on modern technology. For example, feed and chemical companies have experienced staff to help farmers with their production problems. In days gone by, we played a bigger role as the main source of this kind of information...Our role has shifted to work along side these people in providing production information, while spending more time analysing overall farm problems," Little says.

He says that since there are no other sources involved with analysing overall farm situations, it is a "very important and necessary complement to all See page 2

Carnival rundown

It's been a long week, but vivid memories of the Cooper Winter Carnival keep coming back.

For many people, the carnival began Thursday night, January 31, at Cooper Community Centre. The door prize was won by Reta Alore. Ladies' high went to Betty Ferguson and ladies' low went to Ann Marie Clarke. Men's high went to Dave Baumhour and low went to Harold McQuigge. Three people tied at five for most lone lands, but Irene Sweet drew for the win. Winner of the 50-50 draw was Barb Preston.

On the following evening, things really got rolling. About 500 people attended the dinner at the centre and later Madoc Kiwanis Centre was filled to capacity for the annual dance.

Kay Wilson, one of the organizers, said they took in over $2,300 at the dance and supper, which is a record for the ninth annual carnival.

During the dance, Jean Bailey was named Cooper Citizen of the Year.

The ski poker run Saturday morning attracted 79 people, which was best turnout ever. A sad note was struck when skier Michelle Burris twisted her knee while on the course. Winners of the run were: Brian Armstrong, Janet Dennis, Les Tarrant, Mary McCann, Andrea Chapman, Fred See Carnival page 8

Sex abuse - a real concern

BY STEVE GOMBO

A girl, aged 8, arrives home after playing in the park and meets father in the living room. Father is in a strange mood and talks to daughter. He begins touching her in a way fathers don't normally touch their daughters...Twelve years later an emotionally disturbed woman finally gets someone to believe her father has forced her to have sex with her on a regular basis.

Children's Aid Society and police say most people do not like to believe sexual abuse within the family occurs, while statistics show that one in eight girls are sexually abused by someone within the family by age 18, and one in 20 boys. These are only statistics from reported cases. Margaret Pogue, social worker, therapist and conference presenter, said those numbers would be substantially higher if all the cases were known.

Pogue spoke to 150 social workers and interested public at a special meeting on sexual abuse February 6, in Belleville. She said statistics taken up to 1978 show that 70 per cent of abused children know they have been abused and 50 per cent of the time the abuser is their father.

She said sexual abuse is progressive. It can start with the parent or step-parent walking nude in front of a child and touching, and progress through to intercourse.

"The typical scenario ranges from less to more intimate activities. The victim is most often a female child," said Pogue.

Commentary

By J. Bennett

For the last couple of weeks we have been receiving press releases from the Moira River and Lower Trent Conservation Authorities promoting a Pollution Conference set for Belleville in March.

It sounds like a good idea to sit around and discuss pollution and the problems it creates. I was considering going, just out of personal interest in the survival of this planet.

That was until I received the proposed agenda for the conference.

I don't know what the intentions of the promoters are, but all they'll get out of the list of speakers they have announced is propaganda. The speakers named are almost all from government agencies and we know what they'll say before we get there.

The opening speaker is a Ministry of Environment person. He is to speak on the provincial perspective of environmental problems.

Since he represents a ministry that spends most of its time telling the public not to worry about pollution and not doing anything about it, his speech will be an interesting presentation in modern Ontario doublespeak. It may be worth hearing from a language studies point of view.

He'll be followed by an Environment Canada spokesperson. Who knows what that talk will be about? After ten years of personal involvement in environmental questions I have never been able to determine what this federal department does. It did make headlines last week in one of the best media manipulations I've encountered by virtue of the provinces getting together with the Feds to sign an acid rain agreement. The agreement is nothing more than a piece of paper. There were no commitments to spend money or to pass laws. Without laws and money government pronouncements are just that - government pronouncements. Is this the Mulroney touch?

At 9:50 a.m. the topic will be acid rain and the list of speakers for this one is what got me upset enough to start typing a day earlier than usual. The lead speaker is from Ontario Hydro, the second largest acid polluter in the province and one that is proceeding with a program of pollution abatement with all the speed of a snail headed for the escargot bowl. Having listened to Hydro men for many years, my stomach started to turn at the thought of having to sit through the dribble this guy would be expecting us to swallow.

There is room on the panel for a Ministry of Environment speaker to agree with the Hydro guy and for a citizen's perspective (?). That was nice, but why wasn't the citizen's perspective from someone like The Canadian Coalition on Acid Rain or another high-level organization that has all the facts and the skills to present it. I guess it is easier to just call up Hydro and get part of its multi-million dollar public relations staff to come down.

The final session is on Nuclear Energy and only a Hydro speaker is listed. I guess when you are intending to speak about the most polluting and environmentally devastating of technologies, you don't want to risk having someone there who knows how to refute the propaganda.

To my mind, this conference adds up to nothing more than a government indoctrination session - a day of being told the limitations of human imagination, rather than a day of illumination.

The problems are so profound, solving them is going to require fundamental changes in how humanity approaches its own organization/ and bureaucrats won't be able to do it.

Bureaucracy, as we organize it today, doesn't solve problems.

it merely institutionalizes them, and imagination is not one of the tools employed by institutions.

The question of acid rain has been clear to anyone who has even casually studied it, yet the government and its agencies are still doing nothing. The only control order the province ever issued against Inco was way back in the early seventies. It gave the company several years to reach the limit of 700 or so tons a day (yes tons), but when the time came to comply after several years' notice and assurances that it would be no problem, the government backed down, so Inco continues unabated.

The same government allows Hydro to pollute with impunity. Today with acid rain and tomorrow with radio active waste. And these are the guys we're supposed to learn about pollution from. I guess they can tell us how to do it and get away with it.

The agenda better be beefed up by the Moira and Lower Trent Conservation Authorities or they might as well change their names because they won't be helping to conserve anything with the list of speakers we received last week.

Farm situations 'important'

ure production decisions the farmer has to make.

As agriculture rep., Little is administrator of all county programs and staff. He ultimately accounts for what is happening within the district.

In the new year OMAF has been putting more emphasis on soil conservation in the county. Little says they will be developing new programs through the county Soil and Crop Improvement Association to make farmers more aware of better ways they can look after soil at lower cost.

"I think through the county Gattlemen's Association and the new Red Meat Plan, we're promoting better beef herd efficiency, and through the county Milk Committee, emphasis on such things as milk herds on a milk recording system will continue to receive emphasis," he says.

Little thinks Hastings County has a strong, healthy agricultural base. Farmers here have taken advantage of technological progress while keeping some of the traditional concepts of farming.

OFA meets on Parliament Hill

Farmers took off their overalls and put on their business suits today as members of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture (OFA) travelled to Parliament Hill to discuss agricultural policy with members of parliament (MPs).

The visit by over 170 farmers, representing most of Ontario's regions and counties, was designed to give the new government a grassroots report on its first five months in office. The report, said OFA president Harry Pelissiero, is generally favourable.

"Last summer Prime Minister Mulroney made 11 promises to the OFA. So far, the government has acted on more than half of them. Most of the rest are under active discussion," he said.

The OFA is particularly pleased with the decision to allow farmers to refinance the Farm Credit Corporation's lending rates to 12 1/2 per cent. The pilot project of the Farm Financial Distress Review Boards in Grey and Bruce counties also has the OFA's full support. The boards are a co-operative effort among farm organizations, government and financial institutions.

Pelissiero said the farmers were in Ottawa "to communicate, consult, compliment and criticize" the government. He said that in their discussions with the MPs, the farmers raised several concerns about policy changes which will affect agriculture adversely. One such change, Pelissiero said, is a plan to charge farmers for the cost of grading beef, pork and lamb.

"Grading benefits consumers and is a public health service. Everyone should share the cost. It should not be borne by the producers," Pelissiero said.

The government's decision to terminate Canagrex, a federal agency established less than a year ago to enhance the export of food and agriculture products, was also criticized.

"Canagrex wasn't given a fighting chance. We should see what it can do before cutting off an agency that could help bring millions of dollars into the country."

The federation hopes to make the Ottawa trip a yearly event. "We're committed to working with the government to see that those 11 promises become policy," Pelissiero said.

Federal lobbying campaign

BY KEN YARROW

Thurs., Jan. 31, introduced the new year's strategy of the OFA. One hundred and seventy OFA members travelled to Ottawa to meet directly with our government representatives.

Three persons were requested from each county, but no figures are available as to the number from each one: Hastings sent three; Brian Kery, Bill Langstaff and Ken Yarrow. Groups of approximately six persons each were formed and given a list of people to talk to or drop off briefs.

Our group met with Bill Vankoughnet, George Hees, as well as office staff of two other MPs. Frank and open discussions were held in regards to Canagrex, and other options. Capital gains tax and agribonds also came under scrutiny.

In our discussions with Mr. Vankoughnet and Mr. Hees, my personal reaction was one of positiveness. They both expressed a desire through their attitude and questions to become familiar with the problems at our level - not just the bureaucratic. Now don't think they just said yes to everything. They didn't, but they were open, rational suggestions and pertinent information.

The concerns brought to politicians during the federal election '84 and the action to date are as follows: Agribonds - to parliamentary committee; capital gains tax - legislation being drafted; farm credit corporation - moratorium on foreclosures; on Jan. 15, 1985, borrowers locked into 16 per cent can realign to 12 1/2 (money borrowed from April 1981 to December 1982); farm financial distress board set up as pilot project in Gray and Bruce Counties; municipal drain funds committed; farm fuel taxes reduced by 20 cents; farm products marketing act bill introduced Nov. 22, 1984. Items not yet committed to are employment potential.

To summarize, as one MP put it, we are now going at our lobbying in the right way, direct contact in low ratio of farmer to representative with an opportunity for each to show information and to listen to the others as well. I personally feel it is better and is achieving more results than anything tried so far.

Spring water

awareness program

The Moira River Conservation Authority will be conducting Spring Water Awareness Programs in various schools throughout the Moira Watershed between February 11 and 22nd, 1985.

Spring brings dangerous conditions for adults as well as children. The three main dangers to look out for are thin ice, cold, fast flowing water, and flooded land.

Thin ice on lakes and rivers should be avoided at all times during the spring. Sun rays, spring rains and warm temperatures deteriorate ice until it becomes very unstable. If you must go onto the ice be sure to take precautions. Test the ice by drilling a hole. Safe ice thickness for one to three people is 10 centimetres, for a snowmachine - 20 centimetres; and for a larger vehicle - 30 centimetres. Stay off ice that is blue, black or grey in colour and where cracks or open water are near.

In the spring, snow and ice melts which results in more water in lakes and rivers. Beware of fast flowing water at dams, culverts and ditches.

Flooded lands can be dangerous to children as well. The water temperature is just above freezing. Once a child falls into cold water, it only takes a short while for Hypothermia to set in.

Hypothermia is the result of being exposed to cold air or cold water. It means lowered deep-body temperature. If an adult is exposed to cold water for 10 to 15 minutes, the deep-body temperature begins to lower. Body temperatures lower much faster in a child, because of a smaller body size.

Once the temperature reaches 32 degrees C., unconsciousness can occur. Heart failure is the usual cause of death when 30 degrees C. is reached. This is good reason to get out of the water as soon as possible.

If you fall in, be sure to do the following: Yell for help, be calm, grasp onto the ice as far as possible and flutter kick your feet to bring your body to the surface, roll away from the hole. See water page 4

The findings of the Committee which met at the site, were reported to Council. It was discovered that the present level of the ice appeared to be approximately 8 inches above the tile drainage outlets located along the Creek to the north of County Road 8.

Moved by Ken Yarrow, seconded by Walton Reid, "That a letter be forwarded to the Lower Trent Region Conservation Authority outlining the findings of the Committee, regarding the dam which exists on Rawdon Creek." Carried.

Moved by Owen Ketcheson, seconded by Ken Yarrow, "That General Account Voucher Numbers 12-B-84 and

Correspondence was received from the Minister of Natural Resources and Jim Pollock, M.P.P., advising that the problem of animal carcasses being dumped along roadways in the township had been resolved. Correspondence was also received from the Centre Hastings Trapper's Council re-assuring the Township that the problem of discarded animal carcasses was not caused by any trapper within their Council.

Moved by Eric MacMillan, seconded by Owen Ketcheson, "That the correspondence received from Jim Pollock, Alan Pope and the Trapper's Council be received and filed." Carried.

A joint meeting of the representatives from the Villages of Madoc and Tweed and the Township of Huntingdon and their respective Fire Departments was held on January 16th. A discussion took place regarding the present agreements with the two Villages and plans for the Township Fire Department to participate in County Mutual Fire Aid.

Restrainted enthusiasm is the watchword for 1985 as Ontario's real estate professionals gather for their 63rd annual conference.

Sponsored by the Ontario Real Estate Association (OREA), the conference is scheduled for downtown Toronto's Sheraton Centre Hotel, February 17 and 18.

A major question facing the real estate brokers and sales people is that of the economy. Which way is it headed? To help answer that and other questions, broadcaster Brian Costello and three economic specialists will kick off the conference with an interview/analysis format production.

Dr. Carl Beigie, former head of the C.D. Howe Institute and currently Vice President and Chief Economist for Dominion Securities Pitfield, Sam Hughes, President of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, and Norman Godfrey, President of the Toronto Home Builders Association, will join Costello in this blue-ribbon panel. Their discussions and analysis will kick off the conference on Sun., February 17, at 9 a.m.

In all, more than 1,800 delegates are expected to attend the two-day function and will represent all parts of the province.

Among other speakers scheduled for the conference are author/psychologist Richard Flint, sales specialist Hank Trisler, the motivational expert Alan Jacobson.

A highlight of the Conference will be the election and installation of a new President for the 30,000-member Association. In keeping with recent OREA history, the new President will be available for interviews and will hold a news conference on Monday, February 18 at 10 a.m. At that time, he is expected to release a study on rent controls which is OREA's response to the recently completed Phase One report of the Thom Commission.

For most of the two-day programme, delegates will participate in workshops and seminars designed to aid them in their business life and capitalize on that restrained enthusiasm.

OREA is a professional association headquartered in Toronto. Its nearly 30,000 members are scattered in 48 local real estate boards representing major municipalities as well as smaller towns and villages across Ontario. Its major thrusts include government relations and licensing and continuing education for its members. OREA is the government nominee to provide pre-licensing courses for real estate sales people at community colleges across Ontario.

Mrs. Laura Barlow was hostess on January 30 for our regular meeting. President Isabel McInroy welcomed all and opened the meeting the Ode and Mary Stewart collect. The roll call; Name a person or group who contributed to our cultural heritage", was answered by eleven members.

The secretary read the minutes of the December meeting and also several thank you cards from members and shut-ins who had received gifts. Happy birthday was sung to Bernice McKeown having celebrated a January birthday.

Get well cards were passed around and signed these to be sent to members who are ill or in the hospital.

Myrtle Cassidy collected the pennies for friendship in the absence of Esther Leonard. The W.I. had received the newsletter "The Outlook" from the Hastings County Historical Society and it was passed around to members after discussion. A motion was passed to shop for new plastic curtains for the township hall at Harold.

The program, under citizenship and World Affairs, was presented with Laura Barlow. She dealt with subjects such as equal pay to-the work force, new laws and reforms. Also mentioned was child abuse, battered women and abortion. Following this she gave a short resume on the history and heritage of the township of Seymour taken from their 1985 Calendar. Mrs. Effie Spry commented on a few citizenship items and Kathleen Jones read a humorous poem "The story of a lie".

The program closed with a contest on prominent men in politics. The meeting adjourned and the W.I. grace was repeated in unison. A lovely lunch was served by the hostess and assistant.

The Bluebird (above) build feeders at the right height and location. They may come back if locals.

Local hopes to attract bluebirds

BY CHRIS MAGWOOD

Reports of two bluebirds near Cooper and an enthusiastic interest in conservation and bird-watching are what motivated Ray Neil of Deloro to round up used lumber and begin building bluebird nesting boxes in his basement. He encourages others to do the same.

The bluebird population in Ontario was small enough in the 1960s to be considered almost non-existent. However, due to the efforts of concerned citizens further south of us, the bluebird is making a comeback.

The greatest problem facing the bluebird was the lack of suitable nesting. As hedgerows, fenceposts and certain types of trees became fewer and fewer, and other species began to use the remaining nesting spots, the bluebird was forced to move elsewhere. Residents in the Niagara Falls area decided to do something about this. In two years, over one thousand nesting boxes were built and erected, and the bluebird eventually resettled the area.

Ray Neil would like to see a similar concern and effort in this area. Neil moved to Deloro from Carleton Place recently. In Carleton Place he was one of hundreds of bird-watchers, but he is surprised to see how few people seem interested in the welfare of the birds here. He would like to see some kind of group or organization be formed locally and the first task for that organization would be the re-establishment of the bluebird.

Neil has plans for the construction of the nests (they are basically a plywoods box with a five-by-five inch base, seven inch high sides and a one-and-one-half inch hold in the front), and would willingly share them with others. He now has close to ten constructed in his basement ready to be hung.

The eastern bluebird is migratory, and as it returns north it uses its very keen eyesight to spot likely places in which to build its nest. In choosing a nesting site, the most important thing for the bluebird is that it be the proper height. It looks for sites around five feet above the ground, and can apparently spot nesting boxes as it flies.

The bluebirds migrate in early spring, so the boxes should be up by the middle of March. If you live in town, your box will be most successful if you take it to the outskirts to hang as the birds are intimidated by the sounds and movements of town life. Rural dwellers can put the box up close to home so that they can watch the birds should their attempt be successful. The five to experience, the average length of abuse is from four to six years.

Statistics say the average duration of abuse is two years. Pogue, however, said in her

She also said that abuse to boys happens more often than the Children's Aid Society knows because it is not reported.

Abuse can be passed from child to child, like to younger daughters. Sometimes a father may tell his daughter he will leave the others alone if she submits.

"And the myth that it takes place in the back woods is not true. There are some pockets where sexual abuse is prevalent, but there's no evidence that shows it is only in rural areas. I think what used to happen, was it was discovered by workers or police dealing with the lower end of the scale," said Pogue.

Pogue credits the jump in statistics to more strict reporting laws. Anyone coming into contact with sexual or other abuse is required by law to report it.

Police and GAS in the area are now working together to investigate incidents and lay charges. Constable Daryl Wager of Belleville Police said the number of abusers taken to court is going up as a result of this effective joint investigation.

At one point during the meeting, a woman rose to outline the years of incest she was forced into by her father and her depression and attempt at suicide that followed.

The Children's Aid Society strives to treat abused children who are confused and emotionally unstable. Often they must remove the child from the home. If one of the parents is supportive, the job is made easier, said Sexual Abuse Worker Judy MacDonald.

The role of CAS is investigation, assessment, treatment and prevention, said MacDonald.

"Sexual abuse is one of the most demanding and volatile problems we've met as case workers. The reason we initiated the program was because of a dramatic increase in problems," MacDonald said.

She said that if a child describes sexual abuse, they are usually telling the truth.

Madoc Ringette

On Sunday, February 3, Madoc Petites hosted Warsaw. The first period told Madoc they had their work cut out for them, ending in a 2 all tie. Scorers for Madoc were Terri Downey assisted by Kari Kramp and Jayne Daniels assisted by Taryl Kramp.

With fast skating and quick checking, Madoc took over for the second period winning 9-5. Scoring for Madoc were: Terri Downey with 3 goals, Mary Brownson with 2 goals and Kelly Preston, 1 goal. Assists went to Mary Brownson with 5, Kelly Preston with 2, and Taryl Kramp and Paula Empey each with 1.

Mahoney, Jackie Moore and Leanne Gordon, first through eighth respectively.

Winners of the log-sawing competition held Saturday afternoon were: John Berry and Abe Ramsay, (first), Glen Rollins and Bill Mathews (second), Alan Walker and Brian Ramsay (third), and Keith Stein (fourth).

Honorary mention should be given to single-team entrants in mixed and ladies' division log-sawing. Scoring slowest times were Betty VanderVoort and Steve Gombos, and Kim Munro with Sandra Foley. Keep up the good work, hackers.

This year's 22-calibre rifle shooting match was the biggest attraction on Saturday, with 100 people signing up to shoot targets. First place winner in the women's division was Sandra Foley. In men over 50, John Rafius was top marksman and in men 50-50, "Gib" Bailey was victor. In men over 50, Robert Trotter placed first. In the team shoot, "The Three Turkeys" were winners. Last names of the turkeys are: Stein, Hyde and Bailey.

Throughout the weekend, Betty Rollins sold crafts at a special craft table at the carnival, which contained crafts made by local people.

Outside, Jerry Chapman gave sleigh rides with his team of horses, children tobogganed, generally having a wonderful time.

On Saturday night, the Cooper Carnival Variety Show packed the centre to overflowing once again. Local performers did a first-class job of entertaining the crowd.

Sunday morning started out right. The Community Centre was filled with hundreds of hungry people eating the pancake breakfast.

Then, came the snowmobile poker run, which attracted 205 entries.

which is up from 180 entries last year. Carl McCoy took home the top prize of $100. Paul Connors took home $50. Rod Peters won $40. Neil Woods made $30 and Bob Chapman and Grant Robinson each won $25.

The 23-mile poker run took snowmobilers on a scenic ride through the wilds of Cooper, up to Lingham Lake territory and back down.

Cooper organizers are already planning the 10th carnival, which they say will be "bigger and better than ever". Mark your calendar - it should prove to be interesting.

Wolves active in area

The Ministry of Natural Resources (MNR) does not feel that there has been an explosion in the wolf population in this area despite what appears to be increased activity locally.

Terry Coleman, District Biologist for the Tweed District, feels apparent increased activity may in fact be a localized problem stemming from one family of wolves and conditions in that area. "From what we know about the number of wolves being taken in our area and from aerial flights over the deer yards, we don't feel there has been an explosion in the wolf population in our area."

Coleman went on to state that if there seems to be a lot of wolf activity in any given area, it may be caused by a particularly active family of wolves. "This activity may be caused by increasingly difficult situations for that family of wolves as far as their natural food is concerned. During the winter, wolves are forced to be meateaters and they will stick to meat killed themselves or that they find, given a choice," he said.

During the winter, the natural food for wolves would consist mainly of rabbits or mice. "But because there is no reproduction of these animals taking place during the winter, if a family of wolves works a certain area, the supply of natural food will become depleted. They (wolves) will then tend towards something easier to catch. Late winter is a tough time on all wildlife. Less food means they don't have the same amount of energy to expend and they must look for an easier source of food," he said.

This same decline of natural food will often result in increased sightings by man, Coleman said. "Wolves in general tend to be a little more used to people and hunger will often bring them closer to food. Some crossing with wild domestic dogs has also produced a breed of wolf not so afraid of people."

The Ministry does not have a concentrated all-out war against wolves, Coleman said.

"We do have a predator control program and hunters and trappers take a fair number of wolves for pelts and sport each year." Coleman also indicated that snow conditions this year may account for increased activity of wolves near man. "The snow this year, basically light, fluffy and deep, would work against wolves and in favor of their natural food. The snow would be equally difficult for the wolves to move in as it would be for deer and it would be a definite advantage for something like the snowshoe hare over the wolf. The hare, with feet designed to run on this type of snow, would be able to outdistance a wolf very quickly."

BY MIKE SINGLETON

Silently they poise. Every muscle stilled, like some overworld spring. Ready at an instant to explode into action. She beneath a snow-mantled leanto. He amid the catcombs that have been 'home' to countless generations before. Peacefully, they await dusk's kindly gloom, under whose cover they can finally venture forth.

Ontario's hares and rabbit there are three related species - are highly efficient in utilizing vegetation. Feeding incessantly on grasses, succulents, leaves and anything green during the summer, they switch to buds, twigs and bark in winter. Because they're so efficient at converting this material into protein, and so prolific, they provide the important food base for most of our larger predators - lynx, cougar, fox, wolves, coyote and great horned owls, to name a few.

Reciprocally, the pressure of these predators decides which species, each with its own adaptation, will be eaten least often in a given setting.

The snowshoe hare changes color - dark brown in summer, all most pure white in winter. A lanky animal of moderate size (1.2 kg), it has distinctive, very large feet. All of these characteristics adapt it well to thickets, forests, swamps and mixed agricultural countryside

e.g. where it can readily move about its up-to-10-acre range.

The European Hare, distinguished immediately by its huge (3.5 kg) size, is brownish grey year-round, with a black-topped tail. Colonizing large, open expanses, it can either outrun or beat-off most predators. It can cover nearly 5 meters in a single bound, and achieve speeds of 60 kph.

The eastern cottontail is instantly distinguished by its cottony white tail, which contrasts sharply with the brown or grey compact-looking body. The diminutive cottontail thrives in 'little' settings, occupying every patch of ground with a few square feet of cover and a grassy or shrubby area in which to browse.

All nocturnal - for best protection from predators - these mammals establish a feeding range around a lair or burrow. Most often, their lair is simply a protected locale beneath a low bush, a draping evergreen branch, or a slash pile.

Come spring, these sites will be used for 'nests'; some species building simple grass structures, while others simply 'drop' their young in protected sites or ordinary-looking vegetation. Unlike most mammals, rabbits and hares stay away from their young, most of the time, returning periodically to nurse and train. This provides effective protection from most predators - except well-intentioned but misinformed people who stumble across young, assume them to be abandoned and 'adopt' them, forever separating them from parental care.

This time of year offers excellent opportunities to get to know rabbits and hares. You're almost certainly within 300 m. of one, right now. Simply go for a walk in any meadow, valley or wild tangle. Watch for thickets and brush piles. Look for tracks, droppings, and nibblings of both bark and buds. But watch especially for the animals themselves.

Once you know what you're looking for, there are volumes out there, awaiting discovery!

Ontario's hares and rabbits

BY ANNA KRIEDEMANN

Can you imagine travelling the Havelock-Peterborough Toronto (HPT) run "free" for six years? That's what James Devlin, president of Trentway Wagar Inc. in Peterborough has offered, in what he believes to be a "more realistic proposal" in a letter he wrote to Prime Minister Brian Mulroney on January 17.

Devlin's proposal offers six years of free bus service for passengers for the same amount of money as the federal government is planning to spend on a two-year trial of the HPT train service, namely $5.8 million.

"When I saw the figures, I was just horrified," said Devlin. "The government has to be responsible for the way that they spend their money." Devlin reiterated several times that the service should be of benefit to the user as well as to the taxpayer.

Devlin informed Cembal Publications that he had attended a meeting about a year ago in Toronto with VIA rail officials. He said the discussion centred on the fact that the HPT line would not be restored because there weren't enough passengers to support it.

After studying the service as proposed in a media press release dated January 15, Devlin told Cembal Publications he got to work with his paper and pencil and did some figuring. "I took the dollar figures as reported and worked with those same figures, and put a proposal together to show a significant difference when you look at the two modes of transportation."

The Rail Passenger Action Force had estimated that during the two-year trial period it would cost about $5.8 million for annual operating subsidies and improvements to track and stations.

In Devlin's letter of January 17, to Prime Minister Brian Mulroney, he stated that he would be prepared to purchase three new highway coaches to be put into service, and the service would be operated within the required guidelines. The cost would be the same, $5.8 million. "Ours would be for six years, and we won't have to collect a fare."

When could Devlin start? "We would be prepared to get started as soon as they wanted."

Presently Trentway Wagar have a special bus service which has been running for a few years leaving Havelock on Thursday mornings at 9:45 a.m. and arriving in Peterborough at 10:45 a.m. The bus then leaves Peterborough at 5 p.m. and arrives in Havelock at 5:50 p.m.

"With the deficit being what it is, the government has a responsibility of looking at alternative ways," said Devlin.

The following statement was made in his letter of January 17: "If you and your colleagues are truly committed to reducing the deficit, then the viable alternative I present to you should receive serious consideration before a gigantic and expensive mistake is made."

Mazankowski's press secretary, Thomas Van Dusen, informed media last week that the government would not back down on its commitment to restore the train service. The offer might be considered, only after the two-year trial period.

Stereo buying confusing

Whether they want to listen to Bach or Bowie, consumers shopping for stereo systems should use particular caution.

Home stereos have become so complex, many buyers don't really understand what they're getting for their money, says Roberta Allan, chief consumer advisor for the Ontario Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations (MCCR).

With new models and improved technology hitting the stores every year, the market can be as confusing to shoppers as buying a car. And the growing number of discount stereo warehouse operations has only added to the problem with "prices slashed" here, "last year's models" on sale" there and dozens of "deals" available around every stereo-phonic corner.

One of the first things to do when considering buying a stereo unit is to try to find a good book on the topic, says

Allan.

Hundreds of magazines and reports on stereo equipment have been published. Some give ratings for various makes or models, but many publications are too technical for the average consumer to understand.

Taking a knowledgeable friend to the stereo shops is often the best solution.

Comparison shopping is vital as prices can vary widely. It's also important to deal with a reputable retailer. A friendly stereo buff may be able to recommend a few stores. Check company reputations with the local chamber of commerce or better business bureau.

Most consumers buy stereo systems as packages, including a receiver/amplifier, two speakers, a record player and a tape deck. Insist on a demonstration of the entire system, using the specific components offered in the package. Don't settle for hearing the speakers used with a different receiver or any other combination of units. If the salesperson refuses to put the system together so you can hear it properly, shop elsewhere.

Ask the sales staff as many questions as possible and try to ask some of the same things in each shop. If the answers conflict, do a bit more research to find out who's right. A knowledgeable salesperson is an invaluable asset.

Bluebirds

Continued from page 7 six-inch-long bird with its blue back, orange chest and large eyes is undoubtedly one of the most beautiful birds to watch, says Neil. The local Audubon society is very interested to hear from people who have spotted bluebirds or have them nesting nearby.

Ray Neil has found the time to help re-establish a species and with an hour of effort, he says, many more people could make our area home for this attractive species of bird.

Is the unit new or reconditioned? What model year is it? What happens if the merchandise is defective? How long is the warranty? Remember a warranty is only good if the manufacturer stays in business. Try to buy a unit manufactured by a firm with local service facilities to simplify warranty work and decrease shipping costs if anything goes wrong.

Does the store give refunds or exchanges?

Get all important details included on the bill of sale. Insist on opening the boxes and inspecting the equipment before leaving the shop.

When buying a car stereo, it is often wise to have the retailer install it. The ministry has had a number of complaints from consumers who installed their own stereos only to find them inoperative.

The shops later claimed the problems were caused by faulty installation or that the units were actually damaged while being put in.

"You're far better off to pay the extra to have it professionally installed," says Allan.

As with most merchandise, the quality of stereo systems is usually reflected in their price. If you buy a $500 stereo, you'll get a $500 sound.

Did you know that more than 50,000 children under five years old will be poisoned this year in Canada?

Common household items, which are often within easy reach, are the most frequent causes of these poisonings. Furniture polish, lighter fluid, household cleaners and shampoo are only a few of the many poisons in your home. Prescription drugs, over-the-counter drugs, such as aspirin, ointments and large quantities of vitamins are also harmful when swallowed by young children. Household garden plants are another common source of poisoning.

To protect your child and young visitors:

- Keep all poisonous substances well out of reach of children. Do not underestimate a youngster's ability to reach, climb and open cupboards. Children are explorers.
- Provide a safe locked cupboard for household cleaners.
- Buy products with child-resistant caps. Ask your pharmacist for all medicines in child resistant containers. These containers do make a difference.
- Store all medicines in a locked cupboard.
- Keep workshop supplies, such as paint and paint thinners, in a locked storage area.
- After use return all products, medicines and alcoholic beverages to locked cabinets.
- Keep all products in their original containers.
- Get to know your plants; and, do not keep poisonous ones in the home.

If in spite of your efforts a child swallows a poison take the following steps:

- First, call your local poison control centre and follow their advice. Keep a list of emergency phone numbers beside your telephone, so you will be able to dial help without delay. Time makes a difference.
- When you go to the hospital make sure that you take with you the substance, medicine or plant ingested.
- Keep a bottle of Syrup of Ipecac in your locked medicine cabinet and use as directed by your poison control centre. Make sure your bottle of Syrup of Ipecac is up to date as it may deteriorate with time.

A poison-proof environment will reduce the chances of a child swallowing a poison. Remember though, children's abilities change as they learn and test new skills every day. Attentive supervision is the best prevention.

A record 5,500 young Canadians - 2,000 of them from Ontario - will have an opportunity to work learn and travel through the Katimavik program in 1985, International Year of Youth.

On January 28, Katimavik will launch a major nationwide campaign to recruit 17 to 21 year-olds for its unique youth volunteer service program.

Through their work, participants learn marketable work and life skills, and acquire needed work experience.

Participants also live and work in three different regions of Canada, and participate in an educational program that includes instruction in a second language.

To celebrate International Year of Youth, participants in the 1985 Katimavik program also will undertake three special projects: The United Nations Tree Project will see the volunteers involved in tree planting and forestry maintenance programs; the Fitness Project will encourage personal fitness development; and the Youth Centres Projects will involve Katimavik youth in improving youth centre facilities and working with other young people to improve recreational programs.

Katimavik volunteers receive a $1 daily allowance, and a $1,000 honorarium when they finish the program. Any young person aged 17 to 21, who is in excellent physical and mental health, can apply to the program.

Application deadlines are: February 8, March 29, April 26, May 31, July 5 and August 20.

New video regulations

All video retailers and distributors in Ontario will have to be licensed by April 1, 1985 as a result of new regulations released today under the Theatres Amendment Act, 1985.

The new regulations are the first step in a process by which the amendments to the Act's new provisions that affect video retailers and distributors.

Meetings have been held with industry representatives in an effort to avoid any disruption or undue burden on existing video retailers and producers.

Work is proceeding on the classification and identification of videos currently available. This process will also involve the determination of those videos and other films that may be exempted from the classification system.

It is estimated that within eight months the classification process will be sufficiently complete to permit the introduction of the requirement that all videos subject to classification under the Act, bear an authorized Ontario Film Review Board classification sticker when they are offered for sale or rent to the public.

The video stickers will help the public in judging content suitability through the use of one of the four film classification symbols used for the past several years in Ontario: Family, Parental Guidance Advised, Adult Accompaniment and Restricted.

The criteria by which the Film Review Board (formerly the Board of Censors) may refuse to approve films and videos were also proclaimed in law today. Based on community standards, their inclusion in the Theatres Act regulations should meet the requirement of the Charter of Rights with respect to any restriction on "freedom of expression".

licence renewed

Bill Vankoughnet, M.P. for Hastings - Frontenac - Lennox and Addington recently announced that the Bancroft Airport will receive its permanent licence. The February issue of the Canada Flight Supplement will carry a description of the Bancroft Airport and will outline possible flying hazards.

The airport, situated half-way between Ottawa and Toronto, has been fighting for the renewal of its licence for over a year. "I am happy and proud to say that the fight is now over", said Bill Vankoughnet. "The people of Bancroft and specifically the members of the Flying Club have a lot at stake in the further development of their airport."

"The federal contribution will go directly towards a planning study which will look into zoning requirements, runway extensions and other costs associated with a master plan for the Bancroft Airport", said Bill Vankoughnet.

Teens drive impaired

Recently Alcohol & Drug Concerns launched a kit designed to inform 14 to 16 year old pre-drivers and learners about the ramifications of drinking and driving.

Alcohol & Drug Concerns joined with the sponsors of the kit, Sunoco and Insurance Bureau of Canada to introduce it to the press and other interested parties at the Westin Hotel. "Ready for the road?" forms the vital youth link in a three-year campaign embarked upon by IBC to reduce Canada's drinking-driving problem.

IBC, therefore, has provided development money and continuing support throughout the production of the kit.

Sunoco has taken a leadership role by supplying funds for the production of 100,000 kits; this is a clear demonstration of its support for educating young people about the dangers of drinking and driving.

"Ready for the road?" could not have been more timely; for it not only users in International Youth Year, but also underpins the gher drinking-driving legislation which Justice Minister Crosbie is introducing to the house this month.

Fourteen to sixteen year olds have been targeted because, says A&DC Executive Director Karl Burden, "This is the age when most kids can't wait to get behind the wheel; the question is, are they ready for the road?"

Skill, good reflexes are not the only prerequisites; common sense and awareness of the risks of driving while impaired are vital to the road-proofing of our young drivers." Steve Andrunyk, President of the Ontario Safety League, announced that the kits will be distributed as complementary materials to all secondary schools in the province for use in the Driver Education courses. The potential distribution is approximately 55,000. Copies of "Ready for the road?" will be available through Boys and Girls Clubs of Canada and any other local organizations who request them.

"Ready for the road" is not the only information package that Alcohol & Drug Concerns has contributed to the prevention field. In 1983, the Peeewe Drug Information Kit, "Get High on Hockey" hit the front page of the Globe when it was distributed for the first time to 50,000 young players through the minor hockey associations. It focused on alcohol and marijuana and promoted health lifestyle choices. The response to the kit was so positive and the demand so great, that the kit was distributed again in 1984 with the generous support of ESSO and the NHL.

Information kits are one of the many approaches A&DC takes to reduce alcohol and other drug abuse. Through its four centres, in Scarborough, Kingston, London and Sudbury, A&AC works with citizens, in concern groups, school boards and industry to raise awareness and stimulate community action.

OFAH celebrates reintro' of wild turkeys

"Ontario Homecoming" is the title of the original painting commissioned by the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters to commemorate the reintroduction of wild turkeys to the province. The artist is the Canadian wildlife painter, Michael Dumas.

Last March, 75 wild turkeys from the United States were introduced to southern Ontario after an 80-year absence brought about by the loss of the province's mature hardwood forests. Two flocks of turkeys (one released near Brighton, and one released near Simcoe) are being carefully monitored and show every sign of thriving and reproducing successfully in their new Canadian environment. These flocks are exciting proof that a magnificent wildlife resource can be revived in its former range for the benefit of all Ontarians.

A wildlife initiative such as this is expensive however, and fund raising must always be a concern if the wild turkey reintroduction program is to be a long term success. In return for a specified contribution to the Wild Turkey Trust Fund, the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters has available a limited edition print of the masterfully detailed and executed "Ontario Homecoming". Only 490 of these prints exist and only 50 will bear an original print on acid-free stock, signed and numbered by the artist. For an additional $100, the print will be complemented with an original pencil remarque by Michael Dumas. Customers

For each contribution of $225 to the Wild Turkey Trust Fund, the donor will receive one print on acid-free stock, signed and numbered by the artist. For an additional $100, the print will be complemented with an original pencil remarque by Michael Dumas. Customers

Frontenac Provincial Park - high adventure

BY ALISON BUTLIN

In search of some winter wilderness for a little unsure of yourself in the backcountry? Then head for Frontenac Provincial Park—the training ground which can build your knowledge and confidence for exploring the great outdoors.

A recent addition to Ontario's outstanding system of provincial parks, Frontenac—40 minutes north of Kingston—is the first to offer a comprehensive wilderness skills training program. It introduces enthusiasts to the skills necessary to tackle some of the more challenging wilderness provincial parks, such as Killarney near Sudbury or Quetico in northwestern Ontario.

"The park is situated on the southernmost extension of the Canadian Shield and provides an unusual blend of the geography characteristic to both northern and southern Ontario," says Mike Walton, Frontenac's assistant park superintendent and the winter programs co-ordinator. "It's close to roads and cottages, so it offers visitors a less intimidating introduction to the wilds."

Following the success of its summer program, Frontenac is now providing 10 sessions of instruction in winter activities ranging from cross-country skiing and snowshoeing to winter camping and photography. The first of these workshops—ice fishing—will be held January 13. Subsequent workshops will be offered on weekends until March 24.

Whether your interest lies in a one-day outing, a weekend excursion or a series of ongoing visits, Frontenac's winter skills program is for you.

For example, a late-January session provided an opportunity for both novices and those with some experience to learn the many facets of snowshoe travel. The workshop began in the morning, with an informal talk on the "back-ground, equipment and techniques of snowshoeing. The participants then put this training to practical use with an afternoon walk on some of the 160 kilometres of trails within the park's 70-square-kilometer area.

Another session on January 27, was devoted to examining and discussing the latest equipment used in winter camping—an activity Mike Walton refers to as "a demanding" but always exhilarating winter experience."

As with all courses provided, the instructors are volunteers from local groups and associations, or professionals within their field of specialization.

For instance, cross-country skiers will be introduced to waxing techniques and advised on the appropriateness of their equipment by representatives from the Canadian Association of Nordic Ski Instructors.

Later in the season, individuals may wish to return for a full week-end of instruction. On February 9, the Canadian Ski Patrol System - Nordic Patrol will conduct a lecture and practical demonstration on cross-country ski safety. The next day, the Canadian Ski Association offers a discussion and tips on single- and multi-day touring. Toward the end of the month, a cross-country ski day will provide a final review and a testing ground for the skills learned.

All participants choose whether to gain this experience in a complete unit of courses or in individual segments. "The ultimate goal of the program is to prepare people to enjoy a wilderness outing to its fullest and in ways compatible with the natural surroundings," said Natural Resources Minister Alan Pope.

The season at Frontenac winds up with a winter photography workshop, allowing the trained snowshoer or cross-country skier to capture better the many moods of winter on film.

In preparation for this coming summer, the park is offering trip planning for the canoeists as well as a rock climbing clinic—warm weather wilderness workshops that provide a transition to a whole new season of outdoor experiences.

The $2.50 daily vehicle permit fee is the only cost for nine of the 10 sessions. An additional $10 is required for the winter touring session offered on February 10.

All the workshops begin at the newly-constructed trail centre—a veritable oasis amidst the vastness of its surroundings.

The centre's concrete structure houses a comfortable, friendly, carpeted interior, adorned with pine fixtures. A fireplace at the base of a semi-circular amphitheatre provides the hub of activity for all workshops, as well as a rest stop for skiers and other outdoor recreationists.

Information on the trails and park highlights are outlined on the 10 colorful display panels and cases surrounding the fireplace area. In the theatre, visitors can be treated to an audio-visual presentation titled "Threshold to Wilderness", which captures Frontenac Provincial Park in all its seasonal splendor.

The Wilderness Skills Program at Frontenac is a pioneer within the field of teaching outdoor recreational skills to tenderfeet. Whether the park's facilities are used as a stepping stone to more challenging natural environments, or simply as a source of weekend fun, Frontenac Provincial Park offers an experience which shouldn't be missed.

Farmers' Week

About 1500 Eastern Ontario farmers will be going back to school the second week in February. They'll be attending the most comprehensive series of lectures and seminars in the region when they come to the fifth annual Farmers' Week at the Kemppville College, February 11-16.

Donald MacDonald,

co-ordinator for the program, says the week will give farmers a chance "To tune in to new methods and new ways of doing things."

Talks will range from the profitability of forages and cost control, to filing farm income tax.

Each day of the week has been set up to look after a specific commodity or farm group. The largest group is expected to attend the first day, February 11, when Eastern Ontario dairy farmers will, among other things, be talking about insurance, profitability and reproductive problems in herds.

On Tuesday, Ralph Barrie, former president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, will speak on the Beef Marketing Agency Report. Wednesday will be devoted to managing the farm financially.

Hastings Peewees eliminated from playoffs

Hastings Peewees were eliminated from the OMHA playoffs by their arch rivals from Warkworth before a large crowd in the Hastings arena last Thursday night. The home team came out checking and surging in an attempt to get the edge on Warkworth and their powerful center Wayne Clarke.

Hastings opened the scoring at 13:24 with a breakaway, unassisted goal by team captain Kirk Fleming as his team dominated the opening minutes. The lead didn't last long, though, as a bad pass sent Warkworth's Mark Honey into the Hastings zone where he tied the score at one, unassisted, at 13:08.

Hastings' high scoring winger, Brian McMillan, rapped one by the Warkworth goalie on yet another breakaway at 11:33 unassisted. The game then leveled out as Hastings checked Clarke very closely repeatedly stopping him before he wound up to full speed. The strategy worked until the 12:54 mark of the second period when the Hastings goalie misplayed the puck as it passed through the crease and let in an unearned goal by Don Young. The play seemed to break the spirit of the home team and although they never gave up the bad goal was the turning point. Two minutes later, Clarke finally managed to escape the checking and scored his first of the night, putting Warkworth ahead 3-2, assisted by Steve Vectors and Dan Findlay.

With 6:14 left in the period Bobby Ward, assisted by Gary Laughlin, tied the score for Hastings to set the stage for an exciting third.

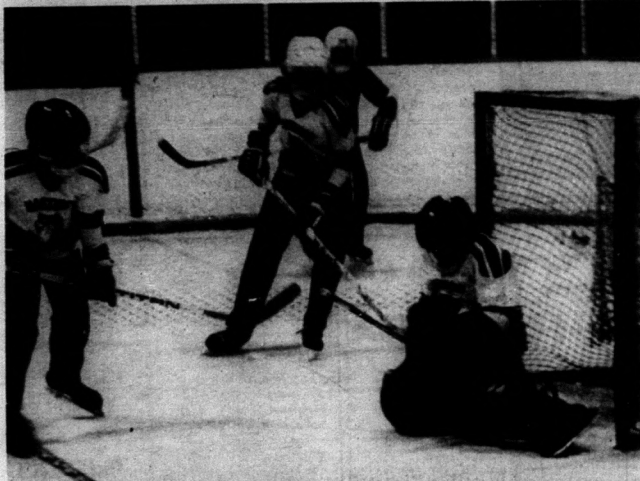

Four minutes into the final stanza Clarke grabbed an errant pass and broke in for an unassisted goal. Jason Bennett, assisted by Clarke, put in another for Warkworth at 7:06.

Trailing by two and facing elimination Hastings pulled the goalie and double shifted McMillan and Fleming but they couldn't break through the Warkworth defense. Then Clarke stole the puck and scored on the empty net with only 48 seconds left.

Warkworth never gives up either. Dan Findlay scored for them assisted by Clarke with only four seconds left.

Warkworth advances in the OMHA playoffs and Hastings reverts back to the Hastings and District playoffs.

Joey Smith in the Hastings' net showed some good form on this shot from a Warkworth stick. It wasn't enough, though, as Hastings was eliminated from the Ontario Minor Hockey Association playoffs

by their arch rivals from Warkworth.

By Isabella Shaw
Madoc Pee Wee B's have won their second tournament of the year by winning all three games in Marmora on Saturday.

Playing host club, Marmora in game one, they skated away with a 5-1 decision. Pat Graham counted two in the win, assisted on the first by Mike Goulah and on the second by Wesley Cromwell. the game, unassisted. His second was also unassisted and the third assisted by Wesley Cromwell. Dale Sager netted two goals assisted by Joe Kehoe and Jeff Wiggins. He also assisted Graham on Jeff's goal. Derek Lucas scored the seventh, unassisted.

Pat Graham and Joe Kehoe split the goals up the middle in the 4-0 decision in the Championship game. Derek Lucas and Wesley Cromwell assisted on both of Graham's goals and Dale Sager and Jeff Wiggins assisted on Kehoe's goals respectively. Davidson recorded the shut-out. Congratulations boys for a job well done.

Earlier the team had defeated Tweed 11-0 in exhibition play. Jeff Wiggins had the hat trick. Derek Lucas netted two goals with singles going to Craig Hill, Mike Goulah, Gordie Preston, Pat Graham, Mark Richardson, and Pat Mahoney. Assists were recorded by Dale Sager with three; Sean O'Rourke with two and Richardson, Graham, Preston,

Marmora Midgets overcome criticism

BY SUSAN M. CUDDY

Even though the Marmora Midgets may not have the full support of the hometown fans, the majority of the followers are extremely faithful.

After all the criticism produced in the first round, the team overcame it all to win the round-robin series.

The next move was to meet Stirling in a three-out-of-five series. This series was all too short as Marmora won in three games straight.

The first game was on Feb. 3rd, in Stirling, with a good group of fans going to watch Marmora win 7-3.

Craig Nobes scored two goals and two assists, Dwayne Bertrand scored two goals. Kevin Terrior scored one goal and two assists, with single goals to Kelly Cook and Tim Cassidy and a single assist to Jeff Clemens.

Game number two was on home ice with Marmora winning 6-1.

Kevin Terrior scored two and assisted on one, Steve Pascoe scored two, Dwayne Bertrand scored one and assisted on one as did Kelly Cook. Steve Meers and Terry Deline each received one assist.

The third game was much of the same thing with a 6-4 win for Marmora in Stirling. Craig Nobes added another hat trick to his stats with Kevin Doyle catching two and Steve Bedore with one. Assists went to Steve Meers (1), Steve Bedore (1), Terry Deline (1), Kevin Terrior (2) and Kelly Cook (2).

The Midgets now meet Wellington on Friday night at 8 o'clock at Marmora for the next

Upcoming bonspiel

The Marmora Men's Curling Bonspiel is now just about set to begin although they need one more team to bring them up to the 32 they want for the bonspiel. Organizer Bob Moore says the bonspiel is not restricted to Marmora teams.

"We have 31 teams signed up now and we would like one more team from the area, if possible," Mr. Moore told Cembal Publications on Monday.

The bonspiel starts on Thursday night and continues through to Saturday night when the last draw is scheduled to start at 9 p.m. Any team interested in getting in on this spiel can call Mr. Moore or any member of the Marmora Curling Club.

"Spectators are also welcome throughout the bonspiel," Mr. Moore said.

A two-day ringette tournament in Warkworth kept many of our girls busy this past weekend. On Saturday,

On Saturday, the Twens (11-12 yrs. old) played three games. Warkworth hosted Hastings for the first game of the day. The Hastings girls played their positions and passed the ring well with the final score 15-3 in our favor.

Jennifer Dwyer and Rhonda MacMillan each scored four goals apiece. Jennifer Scudds had three and Janice Beavis and Karen McColl each counted one. Each of these girls earned assists as did Charmaine Patterson and Kristina Lynch.

The second game of the day was against Warsaw and again Hastings came out on top with a 10-4 score. Rhonda MacMillan scored five, Jennifer Dwyer with two, Janice Beavis, Jennifer Scudds and Karen McColl, each with one. Assists were credited to Jennifer, Janice, Jennifer, Kristina and Charmaine.

This brought us into the championship game against Lindsay. They were a much stronger team and they won by a 12-3 score with Jennifer Scudds scoring two and Rhonda MacMillan with one in a losing cause.

However, the girls enjoyed the day and played well. They were proud to be wearing their new jackets which arrived last Friday.

Sunday was the Belles' day in Warkworth and the Hastings girls had an early start, only to lose to the home team 12-1. Karen Lynch scored the only goal with Joanne Crowley and Tammy Seaborn helping to set it up.

The second game was against Lindsay. This game started on a humorous note when we had to dress in different shirts on account of the two teams wearing similar colored track suits. The girls played a good game despite the loss 9-4.

Barb Wellman scored three of those goals and Karen Lynch scored a single, with assists going to Karen and Monica Lynch. With that loss, we were eliminated from further play.

Sunday afternoon saw Hastings Juniors host the same Lindsay team that had beaten them the previous day. This exhibition game had been arranged some time before we knew that we would meet them in the tournament. Despite the addition of the four Junior players (13-14 yrs. old) to our team, we could not match Lindsay's strong skating and passing. Final score 13-1 in their favor with Kristina Lynch scoring the only goal with Jennifer Scudds and Tammy Wannamaker assisting.

Next Sunday afternoon, we will host a Belle tournament in Hastings with teams from Warkworth, Lindsay and Whitby attending.

Madoc/Norwood series tied

By Isabella Shaw
After dropping the first game by a 7-0 score, in a three out of five series, Madoc Pee Wee's bounced back in the second game to defeat Norwood 4-3 in a very exciting, fast moving game.

In the first game, Madoc found themselves playing come-from-behind hockey for the whole game as Norwood scored only 42 seconds into the game, and continued to add to this score as the game progressed until final score read 7-0.

The second game was a different story however as the boys played scoreless hockey until the 13:00 mark of the second when Stewart scored unassisted for Norwood. Madoc's first goal in the series came at 5:05 by Jeff Sawkins from Ian Richardson and Jason Bailey. At 1:43 Sawkins scored his second to put Madoc into a 2-1 lead at the end of the second. Bailey assisted on this goal.

Early in the third Norwood's Stewart scored his second unassisted goal. At 11:47 Ian Ketcheson scored Madoc's third assisted by Derek Wood and Jason Francis. Again

Stewart tied the score for Norwood.

After Madoc, put on the pressure, it paid off and at 1:21 Ian Richardson scored the winner, assisted by Jason Bailey. A game much more indicative of Madoc and a promise of better to come. Shots on goal for Madoc 32 and for Norwood 24. The series is now tied.

Madoc defeats Norwood in overtime 6-4

Fans were treated to a very exciting game of hockey on Tuesday night when Madoc Pee Wee's hosted Norwood for their third game, which saw Madoc emerge 6-4 winners.

After three periods the score was tied at three with Madoc scoring the tying goal with only 42 seconds left in the game.

Norwood jumped into a 2-0 lead at the end of the first with goals by Rodgers and Stewart. Madoc scored twice in the second to tie the game. Goals were scored by Ian Richardson from Jeff Sawkins and Jason Bailey. At 2:33 Jim Bonter tied the score, assisted by Derek Wood and Jason Frances.

In the third Stewart put Norwood out in front at 6:16; a lead which lasted until with just 42 seconds left. Paul McMaster received a pass relayed from Rob Bronson and Shaun Chapman, and found the mark.

This set up a 10 minute overtime period which saw Madoc really apply the pressure and control the play. At 8:45, Jason Bailey scored from Jeff Sawkins and Ian Richardson. This lead lasted, until 2:36 when again Stewart scored for Norwood to tie the score. Nineteen seconds later, Derek Wood found the mark. He was assisted by Sawkins and McMaster. Bailey picked up a loose puck and added the insurance marker unassisted at 0:29 seconds. Final score 6-4 for Madoc.

Egg producers provide aid

The Canadian Egg Marketing Agency will donate more than $100,000 in food aid to people starving in Ethiopia and a similar amount to help feed the hungry here at home, the agency announced January 31.

Ten tonnes of powdered egg will be donated to the Mennonite Central Committee of Canada for distribution in the famine-stricken African country.

The producer-run agency also said 10 tonnes of powdered egg or the equivalent in shell eggs will be given to the Salvation Army to be used in its hostilities across Canada.

Powdered eggs are a nutritious and easily handled food source. When reconstituted, the eggs retain most of their original food value.

Last year, producers donated 10 tonnes of egg powder through the Mennonite Committee to Catholic Relief Services in El Salvador.

In previous years, the agency has provided food aid to help feed the hungry in Indian, Kenya, Rwanda and Haiti.

Madoc Novices win third

Madoc Novices record their third victory of the year with a 4-1 decision over Stirling in league play. Their record stands at 3 wins - 1 tie - 10 losses for the year. Brian Phillips netted two goals, with Marcie Deering and David Graham each adding singles. Assistants went to Graham Deering, Sandford and John Brounson.

Future plans for plowing match

After nearly a year of study, the International Plowing Match Planning Committee is ready to release its report on the objectives and future plans of the International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Show. The contents of the report will be presented at a press conference held on Monday, February 18, 1985 at 4:30 p.m. in Salon A of the Royal York Hotel in Toronto.

The committee was set up in response to the increased costs faced by local committees putting on the International Plowing Match, and the need for better co-ordination within the management structure. Chaired by Ken Lantz, former Deputy Minister with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, the committee has come up with 38 recommendations that address the problems of one of North America's most popular outdoor farm shows.

The International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Show is one of the top agricultural showcases in North America. Exhibits have always highlighted the latest developments in all areas of agriculture. In its report the committee strongly supports the showcase aspect of the match.

The report also states that the educational element of the match should be emphasized and expanded in the future. The conservation tillage demonstrations at the 1984 Plowing Match in Wellington County were well-attended and they will be a feature of the 1985 Match in Elgin County.

The Ontario Plowmen's Association was formed in 1911 and today there are 51 local branches. Association members are committed to the encouragement of good tillage practices throughout the province.

The report of the IBM Planning Committee is being released during the Annual Meeting of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, which is being held February 17-19, 1985 at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto. This will be the 75th Annual Meeting of the OPA.

David Wood. Norwood scored both their goals in the third.

The second game proved to be a runaway for Madoc as they outscored Norwood 10-1. Steve Bancroft had a big night, as he scored six and added one assist. Brent Forestell had two, with singles going to David Wood and Alan Danford. Assistants went to Steve Brinks (2), Danford (2), Wood (2), Trevor McTaggart (2), and Jon Richardson (2). This puts Madoc into the driver's seat as they head into the third game. In the third game, Norwood opened the scoring at 12:07 on a goal by Richard Coughlin. But then Madoc scored three unanswered goals to lead 3-1 at the end of the second. At 5:22 of the first, Jon Richardson scored his first of three on the night. This goal was assisted by David Wood. In the second Shaun Chapman scored unassisted at 10:22. At 2:30 Jon Richardson scored his second from Steve Bancroft and Al Danford.

Rebekah Stirling Blues eliminated from playoffs

After defeating Lakefield and Bancroft in OMHA playdowns, the Rebekah Midget Blues met Marmora in a best-of-five series. Although Stirling had been victorious in previous matches with this team, they were unable to defeat this practically new team which had been bolstered by five new players for the playoff series.

Game 1 was played on February 3, in Stirling, and set the tone for the entire series with a total of 64 minutes in penalties being assessed plus a game misconduct. Stirling led 3-1 after the first period, but were unable to stay out of the penalty box in the second and third frames when Marmora scored six unanswered goals to win 7-3.

Troy Eagleton, Curtis King and Jim Davis scored for the Blues, while Craig Nobes, Kevin Terrion, Wayne Bertrand, Kelly Cook and Tim Cassidy were the Marmora marksmen.

Game 2 was played on February 8, in Marmora, and was noteworthy for the astrophysically poor officiating. Even though penalty minutes were almost evenly assessed, there were too many high sticks and cross checks and other dangerous moves missed.

The first period remained scoreless but Marmora scored three times in the second frame and then again three times in Stirling's one tally to win 6-1.

Game 3, February 9, at Stirling, was a well played and competently officiated match but again a total of 71 minutes in penalties were assessed with very chippy play throughout. Marmora led 2-0 after one period and went ahead 4-1 after two periods of play.

Stirling Blues made a determined effort to come back in the third and never gave up until the final whistle. They closed the gap to 6-4 and kept the pressure on but in the end time just ran out on them.

Stirling scorers were Eagleton, John Gener-aux, Jeff Thompson and Davis. For Marmora, Pascoe, Nobes and Doyle notched the goals.

Busy Sno-fest Weekend

BY SUSAN M. CUDDY

Sno-fest weekend was busy for everyone, including minor hockey who held a tournament on Saturday. The Pee-wee Bs had teams from Madoc, Stirling and Little Britain. These four teams played a round-robin tournament.

Madoc defeated Marmora in game one 5-1 with Kevin Nobes scoring assisted by Casey.

Price and Glen Kelsh. In game number two, Stirling downed Little Britain 5-1.

Marmora met Stirling next and lost 3-1 with Glen Kelsh assisted by Cary Phillips and Kevin Nobes scoring.

Madoc then challenged Little Britain to win 7-3 and Marmora defeated them next for the "B" Champion and

Stirling met Madoc for the "A" Championship and Madoc won 4-0.

In between the boys' tournament games, the Marmora girls challenged Havelock girls and lost 5-3. The girls were pretty confident as they have beat Havelock before but it seems our opponents have been practising. Kelly Price scored two goals and got one assist. Marmora's third goal went to Julie Papi for her hard work. Assistants went to Charmaine Newman and Christa Maloney.

ATOMS

The Marmora Atoms were beaten out

FOOTNOTE:

Just because some of our teams are not in means that this does not mean that they won't be playing any more games. Please keep check on the paper or on the billboard outside the arena for game times.

Do you know where your dog is?

The season's heavy snowfall in several areas of the province has aggravated the annual problem of dogs chasing deer, says Ontario's largest provincial conservation organization. The Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters is reminding dog owners that deer can be killed by normally docile domestic pets that are allowed to run free.

In winter, deer are often severely weakened by the combined stresses of cold weather and a shortage of food. They are easy prey when deep snow prevents their escape from marauding dogs. Any attempt to outrun the dogs is physically exhausting for the deer and frequently futile. When a dog catches a deer, its attack can be savage. In fact, the pet does not actually need to catch the deer to kill it. Often the chase itself weakens the deer enough that it dies later.

The 49,000 member Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters urges all dog owners to confine their pets to minimize the harm to area deer. It is illegal, under the GAME AND FISH ACT, to permit dogs to run at large during the closed season for deer in an area in which deer are usually found. The offence carries a fine of up to $5,000. In addition, any dog observed harassing deer can be shot on sight by Ministry of Natural Resources' conservation officers.

Madoc Midgets finish playoffs

By Isabella Shaw

Madoc Midgets finished their play-off schedule on a winning note by defeating Tweed 5-2 and 4-3. But it was not enough as Marmora won the right to advance on their goals against average. Record for year was 12 wins - 2 losses and in the play-offs 3 wins - 1 loss.

In the 5-2 victory, Doug McCoy opened the scoring, assisted by Duncan Kosiwka and Mark Burris. Scott Chapman scored from Murray Stickwood and Steve Needham; Murray Stickwood added two, assisted by Duncan Kosiwka on the first and Chris Daniels and Troy Melvin on the second. The fifth was netted by Dave Denison from Melvin and Burris.

In the second win Duncan Kosiwka netted two goals, the first assisted by Scott Chapman and the second by Pete Ringelmann. Peter Ringelmann scored unassisted and Steve Bancroft added the fourth marker also unassisted.

The end of the schedules and the play-offs but a very good year for the boys. In league play they finished first outscoring their opposition 85-31 with goals against average 2:38. In play-off play the odds were narrowed to a 17:15 record, but with M.G.O.A. still in front. G.O.A. of 3:75.

If the shoe fits.

A CHANGE OF SHOES ADVISABLE?

Yes, change shoes and hosiery at least once a day. You will find it is very refreshing and gives you a definite "lift". Shoes are designed for different purposes. Use the appropriate shoe for the purpose. If you stand for long periods on your job, wear comfortable shoes with low heels. The shoes worn by nurses are an example of a good functional shoe.

Take the greatest care in fitting your shoes. Do not depend on size or number alone, but have them fitted with the correct last or shape every time you buy new shoes. Improper shoes can deform the feet with bunions, corns and calluses, and can contribute to more serious ailments.

Changing shoes for work, play or relaxation can give a lift to your spirits and contribute to your good health and morale.

MEMORIALS

GONTIER - In loving memory of a dear husband, Maurice A., who passed away one year ago, February 13, 1984. Little did I know when I awoke that morning. The sorrow that day would bring me. The call was sudden, the shock severe. To part with someone I loved so dear. I don't have time to say farewell. Or for me to say good-bye. My heart still aches with sadness. My silent tears still flow. For what it meant to lose you. You will ever know. With tender love and deep regret, I who love you will never forget you. Too dearly loved to ever be forgotten and sadly missed wife Margaret. -11

GONTIER - In loving memory of a dear dad and grampa, Maurice A., who passed away February 13, 1984. Dad is such a special word. A word that brings to mind. A big warm smile, a helping hand, a shoulder to lean on. Devotion to the family. A word of patience too. "Dad" is such a special word. Because it stands for you. Lovingly remembered and sadly missed, sons Wayne, Alex, Gordon, Charles, Lewis, Susan, Bev, Patti, grandsons John, Casey, Adam, Matt Robbie. -11

STEVENSON - Jo-ann, who passed away suddenly February 7, 1982. Peaceful be thy rest, dear mother. It is sweet to breathe thy name. In life we loved you dearly. In death we do the same. Lovingly remembered by husband Gardener, Dawn Lynn and Robert. -11

Madoc Kiwanis Centre was packed last Saturday night for the annual Millionaire's Dance, which is put on to raise money for minor hockey in the village. Last year the event, organized by Madoc Hockey Mothers' Auxiliary, raised approximately $1,400 for the sport. Top prize winners, this year, were Jim Patrick and Gord and Violet Preston who split the final prize of $1,000. Seen in the above picture is Jack Douglas of Madoc, who tries to tell the cameraman to "hold it" for a second, while Mrs. Richard [Rosanne] Chapman, also of Madoc, waits patiently. Turn to page 6 in The Review for more pictures of the event.

Fire destroys Hayloft hall

The Hayloft, a popular dance hall in the area, burned to the ground February 10, causing over $200,000 worth of damage, said Tweed Fire Chief Don

Barnett. Tweed Fire Department was called to the fire north of Tweed at 4:26 a.m. that morning, but by the time they arrived, the building was "levelled," said Barnett. The firemen used a pumper, tanker and had an emergency van on hand to control flames and stop them from spreading to other near-by buildings. No injuries were reported.

Hayloft owner Wes Mundle held a dance the night before and said he went to bed that night after checking everything and seeing all was in order. In the early hours of Sunday morning, Mundle was awakened by his dog, looked out and found his dance hall in flames.

"When he discovered it, it was completely in flames. There was really nothing anyone could do," said Barnett.

Cause of the fire is undetermined, but Barnett said his fire department will not order an inquiry. He said he is uncertain of what the insurance company handling the settlement may do.

Thinking ahead

by Kathleen Kompass
Sunny days at camp, roaring fires, hikes and cookouts are months away. Thoughts of them rest in the minds of snow suited Scouts and Guides of Madoc.

Members of the six active events are not lost in those thoughts but are busy preparing to celebrate February 22nd. This date is known as Thinking Day.

It is the birthday of Robert Baden Powell who was born in England in 1857. He is the man who began the Scout Movement in 1907 and in 1910 began the Girl Guides in answer to demands that girls be allowed to play the Scouting game.

February 22nd is also the birthday of Olave Soames, the woman who Baden Powell married. Together they gave decades of leadership, encouragement and example to youth and adult members of the Scout-Guide movement.

Today, there are more members in over 100 countries. We use their joint birthdays as a chance to think about world friendship. It is also a moment to recall the Promise and Law which is common to all members in all countries.

Muffin shop opens

The word is out. There's a new business in town called Rainbow Muffin, and it's located on St. Lawrence Street where Madoc Review office was until last summer.

Now, instead of newspapers, consumers can taste any of 25 varieties of fresh muffins baked by Harold Sandford and his partner Heather Ray. The room in back, formerly the editor's office, is now the baking area, equipped with propane stove, fridge and counter. The two make five different kinds of muffin each day, using "fresh, wholesome" products. They do not start with any mix.

"We got into the business mostly to do with health reasons and fitness. We wanted to provide something for people on diets," said Sandford in an interview last week.

They bake a health food muffin, which contains no sugar, he said.

The shop, which opened February 2, has the capacity to seat 16 people who wish to sip coffee, eat muffins and try one of the sandwiches they offer. They make egg and tuna salad sandwiches; ham and cheese; cheese, tomato and lettuce; and grilled ham.

Right now, Sandford and Ray are alternating the flavors of muffins each day, until they find out what kinds are in demand most. Once that has been determined, they can supply the popular ones every day.

"The favorites now seem to be chocolate chip, blueberry (fresh blueberries), bran, health food muffin and apple cinnamon (fresh apple)," said Sandford.

Heather Ray is from Bannockburn and Harold Sandford is from Tannery Hill. Until two years ago, Sandford lived and worked in Toronto as a baker and cook. When he came to the Madoc area, he took a job with Kramp's Restaurant full-time. Now he works part-time at Kramp's and part-time at the muffin shop.

Sandford said he has received a lot of support from local business people since he decided to open a shop. He wanted to especially thank Glen Nickle for giving them an estimate for wiring the shop with electricity.

"It turned out we didn't go with electrical. Instead, we went to propane for the stoves and equipment in the back where we bake muffins," said Sandford.

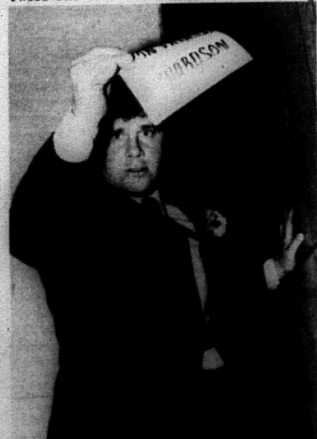

He would also like to thank Madoc Furniture for "assisting in the purchase of equipment." He thanked Lillian Armstrong, owner of the building for encouraging them when they were getting started.

"Thanks to Daryl Kramp. He was very good and understanding," Sandford said.

Sandford said business, so far, has been better than they expected. He's pleased with the response.

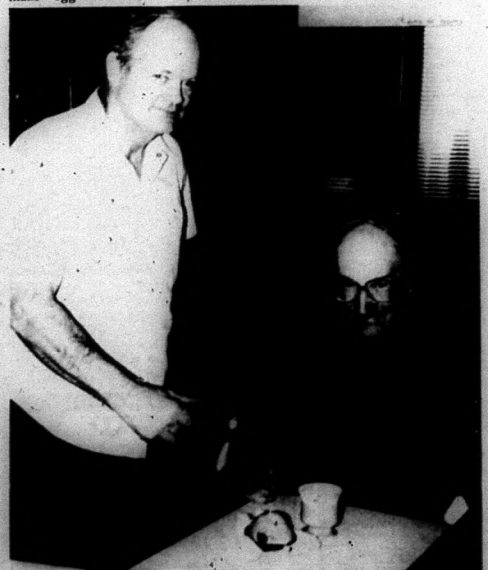

Sandford says they have no definite plans for expansion in the future, but they are contemplating additions to the sandwich line. It all depends on the demand.

For those interested in tasting one of Rainbow Muffin's fresh, moist muffins, stop in and pick one up. Their hours are from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday. They're closed Sunday.

Here again is the ever-popular Jack Douglas during the Millionaire's Night at Madoc Kiwanis Centre last Saturday. Jack was in charge of pulling names off the wall as they were called. There were 150 couples entered in the fundraiser. The first 10 drawn won a prize and the last 10 also, with every fifth name in between also picking up one of the many prizes donated by local merchants and business people. Top prize was $1,000 in cash, which ended the list at a total of 47 prizes.

Notes on February

On the highway freezing

By Steve Gombos

Walking north on Highway 82 between Madoc and Belleville, I begin wondering why God made cars that weren't designed to withstand Ontario winters. In fact, I also wonder why the human body wasn't designed better, because I am freezing!

February has a way of challenging even the most seasoned optimists, who have to face blizzards, colds, car trouble, rude receptionists, depressed friends, bloody noses from dry apartments, and injuries from slips on ice.

When will it end? How long does Mother Nature plan to tear at my face, tug my clothing and numb my limbs? Logic should tell me that it will only last a couple more months, but logic has got nothing to do with my reasoning. I'm standing in the middle of Highway 62 hitchhiking in a snow storm, there are no cars on the road, and my car is in a garage, promising to run up a massive bill.

Winter sports, granted, are fun. After the first few snow falls, people grab their skis, toboggans, ski-doos and stuff and head for the hills. This, of course, is after the roads have been plowed. By the end of January, however, people become a little wary of driving in bad weather conditions, they are sick of facing -20 celcius weather, and by golly their cars are sick of it too. Sure, I've done a little bit of skiing and snowmobiling this winter, and will probably do some more - but that's only if someone picks me up before I freeze to death on this road!

A car passes, spraying me with slush, and keeps going. The driver floors the accelerator when he sees me, thinking I'm some kind of hooded monster... I take my hood off and the driving wind from the west sends icy needles of cold and snow glancing off my skull, which makes my ears buzz. Three cars and 20 minutes later, a blue Chevette stops. The male driver is definitely short, has long, greasy blonde hair, thick lips, needs a shave, and has a big nose. He looks warm as toast, and has on a light lumbering shirt. I jump in and slam the door like a rabbit hiding from bloodthirsty hounds.

Sure is nice riding in a warm car to my destination. Chances are the car will last the winter, considering the fact that it's only about two years old. It takes a few winters to knock them down for a count. Once they've been down for the first count, however, they never seem the same again.

The driver says he's from a place called Stouffville, north of Toronto. He works at a hospital in Toronto.

Yeah, he's a porter. You know, carries the "stiffs" to and from the morgue and the like. Cleans up too. It's horrible to see some of the stuff, he says, especially when they're young kids. Awful, just awful. And the mess...

The guy seems genuine, but what's he doing in Hastings County?

He owns a farm near here. Real estate is so expensive in Stouffville, just like Toronto. It turns out the house and barn on his land burned down years ago.

So how can he stay there in this weather? He goes to the land and sleeps in a tent. What I'm trying to say is, I'm complaining about a few minutes in the cold and not having a car to drive, and he sympathizes. Then he tells me he spends his weekends in February sleeping in a tent!

I guess it shows me how much I know about what people do in the middle of February...

the Beavers, Brownies, Cubs, Guides, Scouts and Pathfinders are preparing an assembly. This will be presented next Friday, February 22nd at 9:00 A.M. at the Township School and at 1:00 p.m. at the village school.

A son-plus-one potluck supper had been planned for Tuesday, February 12. It would have included Beavers, Cubs and Scouts. This was snowed out but is sure to be rescheduled. The Brownies had similarly ill luck and their Parent Tea has been reset for Tuesday, February 26th. There will be a belated celebration.

All units have contributed artifacts, pictures or equipment and the Madoc Pathfinders decorated the window of Linden Station on a Scout-Guide theme.

Sunday, February 17 was another busy day. Each unit took part in a church parade. Brownies attended Trinity United, Guides participated in the service at St. John's Anglican church and the Pathfinders did the same at St. Peter's Presbyterian. Beavers, Cubs and Scouts visited the Methodist Church or took an active part in the service at their home church. Afterwards their was a rehearsal at Trinity United for the assembly programme.

Tuesday evening, February 17, the Guides will hold their regular meeting at the Public School library instead of at the Anglican church. They will be celebrating Thinking Day with a cake and a small gift exchange.

A play put on by the Happy Wanderers Theatre Group [Madoc senior citizens] February 15 at Trinity United church was received with laughter and applause. The play, written by Betty Workman, is entitled "As Young As You Think". The play takes place in Madoc and is about how all the senior citizens

other senior citizens jog past. In the picture on the left, three men read the news and talk. Below is the entire cast of the play.

Assembly set for 'Thinking Day'

The Madoc Public Library Valentine Contest was another success, said Librarian Rita Sporring last week. There were 24 old fashioned Valentine cards entered. Winners of a silver dollar were: Matthew Kompass, Nigel Newland, Jeff Dixon, Angela Forde, Sherry Lessard, Terry Hudson, Janet Crawford, Erin Dixon, Philip Kompass, Lori McEathron, Meagan Dixon, Renee McGowan. Judging was done February 14. Seen here is Sporring posing with the cards which look like personalized Valentines given 100 years ago.

The Dart League met on Wednesday night and during play, Howard Parsonson shot a 144 to claim the high single for men. The high single for the ladies' is held by Ann McIntosh. The cribbage tournament was held on Saturday, with a good attendance, followed by the fishing day on Sunday.

The schedule for the curling bonspiel is finalized and if you have your name down, drop into the hall and see the list for your team and pay your entry fee - $10 for curling with supper and a dance included, $7 for the supper and dance, and $4 for the dance. Come along for a day of unusual entertainment. A shuffleboard tournament is coming up in March, as well as a dart day followed by our bowling night in April.

The Valentine's dance was a success with good music and food. Everyone enjoyed themselves and the spot dances and door prizes were different and very appropriate. Thanks to the committee for a job well done and for the time and effort in decorating the hall in red and white streamers, cupid's and hearts, and if you didn't have a piece of that delicious cake, you missed a mouth-watering taste delight.

Scout and Guide Week is here with their displays and activities. Support our young people by attending their functions. Comrade Ruth Ward presented the group committee with a check for $500 at the parent and son banquet. The public speaking held at our schools, in conjunction with the Legion public speaking, will be held on February 21st, with the contestants at the junior school speaking in the morning and the senior school speaking in the afternoon. The zone public speaking will be held at Stirling Branch 228 on Sunday, March 24th. Guests are invited to attend to hear our young people from Zone F3 speak on many topics. Membership cards are being held at the hall. If you have paid your dues, please check to see if your card is in. To all ordinary and associate members, time is running out to pay your dues. There will be no extension. Deadline is March 31st.

Comrade Flo Royle is home from the hospital. Comrade Ann Schofield was involved in a car accident on the 14th, and is home with bruises, aches and pains. Honors and Awards Night will be held on Tuesday, March 5th, during the general meeting at 8 p.m. Make plans to attend and honor those members who have worked and those who have long service in the Legion.

On March 3rd, the Zone F3 convention will be held in Picton, Ontario, with registration at 12, meeting at 1 p.m. This is an election year and the delegates will be voting for the zone executive. Any member may attend these sessions to see how the Legion works with the branch's designated members voting for the branch membership.

Leg-hold traps inhumane

A world congress for animals was held at the end of May, 1984, in Boston, Massachusetts. Thirty-four countries attended the congress. There was a large representation from Canada and the United States, Australia, New Zealand, Africa, India, South America and all of the European nations. Scandinavian countries were represented as well.

At the meeting, a resolution was adopted to persuade these countries to abolish the operation of fur farms. A previous resolution had condemned trapping of wild fur-bearing animals and called for total abolition of that activity. These two resolutions are an indication that there is a humane movement throughout the world. The abolition of the importation of white coat harp seal pups to Europe was the result of a coalition of these countries. A similar coalition produced noticeable changes in the harvesting of whales under the protection of the International Whaling Commission.

Public awareness programs are developed because these organizations have the capacity to develop coalitions.

A program is being developed in Canada to produce effective economic boycotts which are geared to persuade the government of Canada to abolish the trapping for fur-bearing animals with leg-hold traps. It has been respectfully suggested to the government to recognize the influence that these organizations have on trade and for this reason the government should immediately place a total ban on the manufacture and sale of the leg-hold trap. Moral and humane grounds in these endeavors should persuade the government to take appropriate action without delay. An increasing number of people in this country and indeed throughout the world will not accept cruelty to animals. We urge the government of Ontario to put through a bill without delay which once and for all will abolish the leg-hold trap.

In my opinion the leg-hold trap is one of the most cruel devices that has ever been invented. Anyone who has seen animals dying from thirst, starvation and exposure, caught in traps set by weekend trappers whose traps are checked once a week, wishes for a way to resolve the problem. The present trapping methods are inhumane; therefore, a total ban of the leg-hold trap is urgently required. Leg-hold traps are a hazard to children and domestic pets when used close to residential areas.

We all have to act NOW. Get involved. Write to your elected representative and ask for support for legislation to outlaw the leg-hold trap.

[Mrs.] Evelyn Hamilton
Member of Anti-leg hold trap Co-ordinators

United Church Women

BY EVA BROWNSON

"Do we care enough?" was the theme depicted by numerous posters at the front of Holloway Street United Church, Belleville, for the twenty-third annual meeting on February 7th. A large crowd of enthusiastic ladies listened to two different issues of concern to many people today.

Everyone enjoyed the sing-songs through the program under the capable leadership of Doris Daniels, accompanied by Elizabeth Vader at the piano. Included was the theme hymn, "They Will Know We Are Christians By Our Love."

Mrs. Irene Wellman, president of the Presbyterian UCW welcomed all and opened with a poem, "Be Strong", followed by greetings from Holloway St. UCW president, Mrs. Lillian Waters. Gwen Wentland, Bay of Quinte Conference President, told us why we need

UCW and announced that conference would be held April 2nd and 3rd, at Perth.

Members of Trinity UCW, Napanee, presented an excellent worship service based on "God Is Love".

The offering was taken and dedicated by Frankford UCW followed by the roll call of locals with total donations of $1,045 to be used for Presbyterial expenses.

The guest speaker, Sgt. Hugh Brennan from the Belleville Police Force was introduced by Mrs. Mary Elliott. Sgt. Brennan spoke on pornography saying that it is more than dirty pictures but demeaning and degrading to the human female and an attempt to insult sex. Years ago it was thought that young people who got in trouble came from bad homes but not any more, as it starts when a mother uses TV as a babysitter where there is pornography and violent movies.

He mentioned the names of magazines that affect men's minds and there is even one magazine using children called "Kiddie-porn". He also showed pictures used for advertising which are pornographic.

Some parents make their children have sex against their will because they need the money.

Violence against women and child molesting is increasing. People must be concerned and speak out about what offends them. Sgt. Brennan suggests writing to your Crown Attorney, OPP or MP. Mrs. Stephanie Langford thanked Sgt. Brennan and remarked, "We cannot make it without Christianity."

Reverend Norman Hair welcomed everyone to Holloway St. and said Grace before noon luncheon.

Mrs. Margaret Reid, representing the "Voice of the Women" was introduced by Mrs. Mary Elliott and spoke on "War Games Boycott". She had visited stores before Christmas and noted that practically all the toys had to do with violence or war.

A float was entered in the Santa Claus Parade. "Please do not buy me War Toys". Video games are also hurting the minds of our children. What they see all the time is what they believe is okay.

What can we do? Inform ourselves and decide where we stand. Make your home a "War Toy Free Zone". The power is with the customer to tell what we want and what we will not tolerate. Mrs. Reid was graciously thanked by Mrs. Dorothy Fisher.

An interesting skit in keeping with the issues of the day, "Thoughts for Action Strategy", was given by several executive members. Next, a letter requesting something be done about pornography was distributed to everyone present to be signed and sent to the House of Commons, Ottawa.

chairman of Belleville Presbytery installed the 1985 officers. The theme hymn and benediction closed a very informative and inspirational meeting.

Somerville of RR #3, Marmora, Ontario, appeared in County Court in Belleville, Ontario and were found guilty and convicted on a charge of abduction of a person under the age of sixteen. Bailey was MC for the event organized annually by local hockey mothers to raise money for minor sports. The top prize of $1,000 was split between Jim Patrick and Don and Adele Richardson. Either winner could have called for a final draw if they wanted to gamble for the whole sum, but both decided to settle for an easy $500. DECISION

Hastings Cable Vision Ltd. Decision CRTC 85-95. Madoc, Ont. Pursuant to public notice CRTC 1984-317 dated 21 December 1984, the Commission approves the application to amend the licence for the broadcasting receiving undertaking serving Madoc by increasing the maximum monthly subscriber fee from $6.50 to $7.50. In approving this increase, the Commission has taken into account the fact that this small cable system of some 500 subscribers has achieved a high level of penetration. The Commission also notes that the licensee has not received a monthly fee increase since July 1981. Under these circumstances, the Commission considers that the present increase is justified on economic grounds and will enable the licensee to cover increased operating costs and continue to maintain the quality of service provided to subscribers.

Miss Eastern Ontario Pageant

The information line to the Miss Eastern Ontario Pageant office is starting to get very busy these days. With the completion of many local preliminary talent and beauty pageants and interest from privately sponsored girls, entry forms are arriving daily. Pageant President Orval Buchanan has placed the limit at thirty girls this year stating that once they reach that figure they will have to close entries and with less than two months to go they have already reached half of that goal. With entries coming in from more communities than ever before, it's expected that the show will again draw large crowds and it won't be too long before the tickets are sold out. Mr. Buchanan also informed us that tickets, at five dollars each, are already available at the Perth Chamber of Commerce.

The show is scheduled to take place March 30th at Perth and District Collegiate one week before Easter. For this reason they have picked "Easter" as their theme and it's believed the girls will be given an opportunity to model Easter Bonnets as part of the program. The Perth Collegiate Art students, under the direction of Mr. Martin Rennick, will also be using their talents and imagination in decorating the stage and preparing the backdrop for the show.

Upon completion of the program and the crowning of the new queen everyone will be invited to the "Miss Eastern Ontario Dance" also held at the Collegiate.

There's no doubt about it, March 30th is going to be another big day in the life of Perth as the most beautiful girls from all over the area visit for the annual spring time extravaganza known as the Miss Eastern Ontario Pageant.

Freedom of choice in beef market

The Steering Committee of Concerned Cattlemen of Ontario will recommend to a general meeting of the organization on February 7th, that its activities be discontinued.

This decision is the result of the announcement on February 1st, by the Ontario Cattlemen's Association and the Minister of Agriculture and Food.

An agreement was reached that an OCA, OMAF and industry Task Force would be formed to develop practical programs to meet the marketing information and inspection service needs of the beef industry.

Initiatives in these areas already have the strong support of most cattlemen. The Minister has indicated that the expression of opinion poll on the recommendations of the Beef Marketing Agency Commission, planned for April, will not be required.

As a result of these developments, in the opinion of the Steering Committee of the Concerned Cattlemen of Ontario, there is now no reason for the group to continue to be active. Speaking on behalf of the group, its chairman, Ross Procter, said "We are delighted that a free choice of marketing alternatives will continue in the cattle industry. We welcome the reaffirmation of the OCA and its democratically elected officers as the voice of Ontario cattlemen. We are pleased that the Minister of Agriculture and Food has decided not to pursue the creation of a Marketing Agency to eliminate direct sales to packers. These recommendations have proven to be divisive and unwelcome to many cattlemen. We have all benefited from our dialogue with the commissioners. We appreciate the hearing we have received from the staff of the Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Above all, we appreciate the encouragement and support of the many cattlemen we have had contact with in the last four weeks.

The concluding meeting of the Concerned Cattlemen of Ontario will be held on Thursday, February 7th, at 7 p.m. at the Ramada Inn, London, Ont., Wellington Road and Highway 401.

Queen's Park Report

BY JIM POLLOCK

On Friday, February 8th, 1985, the new Executive Council of Ontario was sworn-in by the Lieutenant-Governor, John Aird.

I was honored to watch this historical event in the Legislative Assembly at Queen's Park. I believe that our new Premier, the Hon. Frank Miller, has achieved an exceptional, unified balance in appointing his Cabinet Ministers. It is most important to remember that a diversified Cabinet with age, geographical and philosophical differences, will enable it to best serve the people of Ontario. I feel that this characteristic has been the key to the past success of this Government.

We, in Ontario, can look forward to a fresh start in provincial government with continued dedication to Ontario interests.

The Ontario Government has always been concerned about family violence in our province. We have initiated many programs in the past which responded to the problems of family violence, especially in the areas of wife battering and child abuse.

Another immediate concern, today, is the issue of abuse of the elderly. The Standing Committee on Social Development started to explore the question of abuse and neglect of the elderly in the community in May 1984. We decided that before public hearings on the issue were undertaken, we would first put out a questionnaire to conduct a survey on the extent of this problem.

In discussing the results of this survey, I would like to explain a few terms. The term "physical abuse" means inflicting any kind of physical pain, injury and coercion. The term "material abuse" is defined as the illegal or improper exploitation and/or use of funds or other resources.

Neglect is the refusal or failure to fulfill a caretaking operation. For example, deliberate abandonment or denial of food, health services, or other essential services.

February 7, 1985, Bill Vankoughnet, MP for Hastings-Frontenac-Lennox and Addington, was pleased to confirm that the North Hastings Planning Project will receive a $65,200 grant from the local Employment Assistance and Development Program (LEAD). The project, sponsored by the North Hastings Economic Development Committee, will provide two jobs from March 1st, 1985, and run until December 1, 1985.

LEAD aids organizations to help develop businesses and employment opportunities. The North Hastings Planning project will establish development strategies for the area and determine which model of LEAD is most relevant to the needs of the area. The project will also research the existing resources of the twelve townships of North Hastings, analyze the potential opportunities, and develop an overall economic development plan for the communities.

"North Hastings is demonstrating the very principal of the local Employment Assistance and Development Program. Helping communities to help themselves," said Mr. Vankoughnet. "In this area, and in these times of unemployment, it is encouraging to see such an active community organization devoted to developing and improving their community."

The questionnaire was sent out to groups such as clergy, doctors, lawyers, the OPP, home support agencies, Red Cross, various senior citizen related agencies, health care units and others.

The committee received a disappointingly low response rate from some of the groups. However, the results that were tabulated revealed that there is a very definite problem in the care of the elderly and that a closer look at this situation is needed.

On the results tabulated, we found that our respondents generally felt that neglect was the most prevalent problem with material abuse second and physical abuse last.

Consequently, when the House returns this spring, the Standing Committee on Social Development will propose to the Government that another questionnaire be sent out. We will also work with the Ontario Advisory Council on Senior Citizens on this issue. We feel that this is an area which must not be ignored.

I was happy to hear of the permission granted by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications to the

I would like to add that the Ministry is hoping to transfer this land to Harvey Township in the spring of this year.

Recently, I attended a function in honor of Gerald Cadwell, the retired administrator at the Hastings Centennial Manor. Mr. Cadwell's excellent service to the county was acknowledged in a letter which I read from former Premier Davis.

Herd health management saves money

BY The Canadian Veterinary Medical Association
It's hard to put a figure on the amount of money lost annually in Canada to livestock diseases that could be controlled through herd health management. A federal government study on preventative veterinary medicine in Canada estimated that the cost could be as high as one billion dollars. "The main idea is to maximise efficiency of production," says Dr. Gordon Atkins of Calgary, Alberta. "It costs about $2.50 - $3 a day for a cow to be left open when she should be pregnant. The cost of herd health management is small compared to that," adds Dr. Atkins. Dr. Atkins is one of two veterinarians working out of a clinic that deals mostly with dairy and swine of herd health management and some swine. He says there are three main aspects to herd health: disease control, reproduction management

"We're trained to recognize problems," says Dr. Atkins. "For hog herd health, we basically walk through the barns on a regular basis to pick out major herd diseases or nutritional problems. We've come across diseases and potentially saved the farmer thousands of dollars." He adds that dairy farmers can make money on a veterinary consultation about nutrition. It's possible to move a dairy cow producing 45 pounds of milk a day up to 55 pounds a day.

Although many producers are not interested in herd health programs, Dr. Atkins says more and more farmers are moving towards it. In 1973, for example, the clinic at which Dr. Atkins works had one herd under management. Right now, they have 65 herds in the program and most of these belong to farmers who walked in and said tell us about herd health management.

"The first thing I tell them is that they can't afford to be without it," stresses Dr. Atkins. He says veterinarians also act as liaison between farmers and building and ventilation experts. If the veterinarian notices a problem in the barn that affects health, he can direct the farmer to someone who can help. The veterinarian can also prepare an annual report and make recommendations for the following year. Preventative medicine can be of great economic benefit. The potential return from improved herd health management is hundreds of millions of dollars annually. These programs lead to better performance in food production, reproduction and disease control. The program is usually set up by a private arrangement between herd owners and their local veterinarians.

English rink wins George Cardwell bonspiel

On Saturday, February 2, at the Norwood Curling Club, 24 teams competed for the trophy at the George Cardwell Mini, Bonspiel. Ninety-six curlers took part, making a broad spectrum of the Norwood curling population, with special emphasis being placed on the public school curlers.

The Novices did dominate in the breakdown which is as follows: 40 public school curlers, 16 regular curling adults, 12 high school curlers, 11 who had never curled before and sixteen who only curl this one day, totalling 96.

Three four-end games were played by each team, the four-end with the most points at the end of the day winning. Points were calculated on the basis of number of points scored in the game, number of ends won, number of games won. The winning team of Kristy English Skip, Sherry Scott Vice, Frank English Second and Raeburn Scott Lead, got a total of 43 1/2 points for their trophy winning effort.

Close behind with 42 points was the team of Kirk Snider Skip, Jeffery Baptie Vice, Glen Baptie Second and Jason Baptie Lead. The three Bapties had never thrown a curling stone before the game but certainly learned quickly.

The third place was occupied by two teams due to a tie. The one third-place team was made up of Paul Nicholas Skip, Rea Wilson Vice, Michael Pearce Second and Leanne Wilson Lead. The other third-place team was a family affair with Jason Dafeo Skip, Ralph Dafeo Vice, Emerald Dafeo

Second, and Lead Heather Anne Dafeo.

Other one-family teams were the fourth-place team of Alan Dawson Skip, Margaret Dawson Vice, Andy Dawson Second and Scott Dawson Lead. Skip Alan Dawson spent his 40th birthday curling, receiving a surprise birthday cake and gift during the day.

The eighth-place team also had the same last name. Debbie Doherty Skip, Brenda Doherty Vice, Pat Doherty Second and Brian Doherty Lead.

Other prizes awarded were for Sportsmen. The first draw winner was the family team of Shawn Wood Skip, Sue Wood Vice, Larry Wood Second and Angie Wood Lead. The second draw sportsman winners were the team of Mark Olsson Skip, Henning Olsson Vice, Lars Olsson Second and Jonna Olsson.

Donaldson Second and Kevin Donaldson Lead.

There was also a double take-out contest with winners being selected from each draw.

The winner of the first draw was Jane Bryenton, the second draw winner was Sherry Scott and the third draw winner was Alan Dawson.

Everyone had a super day and after the prizes were awarded everyone settled down to a potluck supper.

Madoc Peewees drop heartbreaker to Norwood

The Madoc Pee Wee's dropped a heart-breaker to Norwood on Friday evening, when they lost a 2-1 decision to Norwood. This evened the series at two games apiece.

In their fifth and deciding game, again the boys came out on the short end of the score. Norwood came out shooting and only 45 seconds into the game when Crowley scored from Hamilton. Two minutes later Stewart put them into a 2-0 lead.

This lead lasted until 6:47 of the third when Shaun Chapman and Paul McMaster combined for Madoc's only marker. After three goals had been called back, Norwood finally recorded their third goal when Stewart scored

Hurricanes and Campbellford series tied

BY STEVE COMBOS

It's a very tight situation between Campbellford and MTM Hurricanes in Junior C

Hockey action this week. The teams, at press time, were tied at two games apiece. They met again in Madoc on

tage, but Campbellford quickly showed them they weren't going to go down without a fight. The game ended 5-4 in Campbellford's favor.

Richard Chapman of Madoc said, "They (Hurricanes) just didn't go there to play hockey. They played like Campbellford did here last Saturday."

Last Saturday in game three of the playoffs, the Hurricanes played one of their best games. They cleaned up to the tune of 6-2. Stars for that game were Randy Gray, John Desjardins and Barry Smith.

The series started out in Madoc, February 12, on a very dismal note for the Hurricanes. Campbellford skated away with the game, which ended at 6-4. It seems that home ice has no bearing on the performance of either team. Stars for game two were Glen Patfield, Jim Thompson and Mike Burris.

Things got a little hostile in Madoc last Tuesday night when MTM Hurricanes played Campbellford in the first round of Junior C playoffs. Campbellford won that game in good shape, with the final score at 6-4. Hurricanes went on to win the next two games to set it at two games to one, but then, last Sunday, Campbellford picked up another win to tie it.

Stirling Peewees eliminated in fourth game

The Stirling Peewees losing to Bancroft 5-2 in the fourth game. It was a very exciting game off on the weekend by with few penalties and many scoring opportunities for both clubs.

Rodney Torrance was in net for the Blues and came up with a good game. All players have to be complimented on their play in the playoffs and the coaches Gary Torrence, Peter House, and Shawn Allenby hope to see a few of the kids back next year.

The Peewees will now play in a few tournaments starting this weekend in Fenelon Falls, then back to Marmora on March 9 and 10, for another tournament.

The Stirling Blues (Peewees) would like to thank everyone in the community for their support and especially the Stirling Legion for sponsoring them this past year.

30,000 STEPS EACH DAY

Many mothers complain that their children's shoes simply do not last. They fall apart when they get wet. Or the soles separate from the uppers under vigorous - and sometimes not so vigorous - wear. Some facts may surprise you. For instance, a healthy 7 year old boy may easily take around 30,000 steps every day. That's about 10 miles a day, 300 or so a month. And if the boy weighs about 55 pounds, he's putting 800 tons of weight on his shoes every day (55 pounds times 30,000 steps). So you can see why research specialists at the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture estimate that those new shoes will probably wear out only about ten weeks of active life. And don't count on a girl putting much less wear and tear on shoes!

Hurricanes eliminate Campbellford from playoffs

There was a pile-up on MTM Hurricane goalie Dave Bunnett during the second period of last Sunday's game against Campbellford. At that

tuallly won the game by a score of 7-4.

MTM Junior C Hurricanes skated away with a 7-4 victory over Campbellford Merchant Blues to take their first round playoff series four games to two.

The final game was held last Sunday afternoon in a packed Campbellford arena. Hurricanes Kevin Morley, Randy Gray and Dale Prevost were prominent hustlers for the winning team, who now go on to face Ganoquo G-Men in round two.

The Hurricanes started out hot in period one, slumped for three goals in period two, and then carried the game away in period three with four goals.

In period one, Randy Gray opened the scoring at 12:56, with Doug Reid taking an assist. Two and a half minutes later, Gray punched in another one, with Reid and Palmateer assisting.

Prevost picked the puck up from a Campbellford defenceman behind the net and slammed it in from the side. The goal was unassisted.

With the score at 3-0 for Hurricanes, Campbellford picked up their pace and managed to hold on to the puck in the last third of period one. At 2:09 Gord MacMillan finally managed to put his team on the board with a goal. Craig Brunton and Jamie Scriver were given assists.

Period two was a see-saw battle that mainly resulted in failure for both sides. But with only 53 seconds left, Paul Copperthwaite took a hard rebound and scored on Hurricanes. Assist went to Jamie McMilloye.

Then, with only 36 seconds left in period two, Campbellford's Gord MacMillan scored the tie goal, with Gord Tillaart and Frank Moynes assisting.

The period ended at 3-3.

It didn't take long in period three for Hurricanes to put themselves back on top of the game. Only 58 seconds into the period, Kevin Morley put a well-calculated wrist-shot past the Campbellford goalie after a quick breakaway to the left. The goal was unassisted.

At 15:29, it was Hurricane Pat Doran's turn to score. He took it in at about the same place as Morley did on the last goal, and made it look easy. John Desjardins picked up an assist.

With the score at 5-3, Hurricanes didn't reduce their pressure. In fact, they picked up the pace. At 15:51, Kevin Morley scored another nice goal, with Desjardins making the assist.

With the score at 6-3, the Hurricanes were really rolling. At 11:23 Dale Prevost got a breakaway and skated down for the seventh Hurricane goal. It was achieved unassisted.

The last goal of the game was made by Campbellford with only 7:47 left. Jamie McMilloye scored short-handed with Alan Wilde taking an assist.

Campbellford has been put out to pasture for another year.

Negotiations for a current events sign in Madoc continued at the February 5, Madoc and District Chamber of Commerce meeting.

Coca Cola Ltd. estimates the sign will cost between $6,000 and $8,000. Representatives of Coke told the chamber that they will be approaching service clubs in the area for financial assistance, in addition to the amount they will be putting in. "It was suggested by Bob Bancroft that the chamber request the opportunity to have local quotes taken for installing the posts. This will allow local businessmen to get involved and may be less costly than bringing in outside firms," stated minutes of the meeting.

Chamber President Daryl Kramp said he invites public input on a location for the proposed sign.

WINTER CARNIVAL
Members of the Chamber of Commerce say interest in having a winter carnival in Madoc is "gathering momentum" and anyone interested in helping with organizing an event should attend the next chamber meeting scheduled for March 12. The meeting is to be held at 12:30 p.m. at Madoc Hotel.

CANADA DAY

"Canada Day celebrations entail the biggest business day in the year for businessmen. No delegate from the downtown businessmen's association has attended chamber meetings to date, so the president was to approach the association and arrange for a delegate. Applications must be made for Canada Day grants, and input is desirable from the core businessmen," said the February minutes.

ANNUAL AWARD

Members at the last Chamber of Commerce meeting began discussions on having annual Citizen of the Year awards. They decided to present their first award at the next general dinner meeting to be held April 10.

BLOCK PARENT PROGRAM

The Madoc and District Chamber of Commerce has decided to endorse the Block Parent Program being organized in Madoc.

They play to distribute a Block Parent pamphlet with covering letter.

The decision was made after Block Parent Program Chairman

John Hall outlined the program to chamber members February 5.

Local man's death being investigated

The death of Reginald Trotter, 76, of Cooper is being investigated by the regional coroner, and he says Trotter may have died from a reaction to incorrect medication.

"The initial investigation reveals the deceased likely died from a drug reaction," said Dr. Robert MacMillan of Kingston last week. "The investigation fur-

Last Sunday, Madoc Figure Skating Club hosted a Low Test Day for clubs in Wellington, Picton, Belleville, Tweed and Madoc. Approximately 60 youngsters participated in preliminary figure to third figure, then preliminary freestyle and preliminary dances to senior bronze dances. There are only two of these test days [low test] per year.

Trotter is reported to have felt ill after taking the prescription and was taken to Belleville General Hospital. On December 7, 1984, he died.

MacMillan said, "Writing on the prescription appears to have been misinterpreted by the pharmacist dispensing the drug," and added it was an independent pharmacy in the area, but would not give the name of the doctor or specific druggist involved.

Once the investigation is completed, said MacMillan, a decision will be made as to whether a coroner's inquest should be initiated.

A Madoc area man called The Review last week to say Trotter's doctor had a practice in Roslin, and Trotter may have picked up medication from any druggist in the area.

Madoc Lodge, No. 179

Oddfellows have meeting

February has been a very busy month for Madoc Lodge #179 IOOF.

During our regular meeting on February 6, we entertained visitors from Royal Lodge #286 of Havelock and conferred the 1st Degree on two of their initiates. After the meeting a buffet lunch was enjoyed by all.

The real highlight of the month was the banquet for the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, Bro. John L. Savage, on the 20th. The banquet was held in the Anglican Church Hall and the Anglican Church ladies served 109 Brothers, Sisters and friends. Lodges from Madoc, Tweed, Thomasburg, Stirling, Springbrook, Campbellford, Belleville and Bowmanville were represented.

The Dr. S.R. Beatty Shield was presented jointly to the Springbrook and Madoc Lodges for obtaining the most new members during the past term, and the John Bristol Shield was presented jointly to Bro. Gord Jones, Springbrook Lodge, and Bro. Ed Stevenson, Madoc Lodge, for bringing in the most new members. Bros. George and John Carlisle of Stirling Lodge received 60 new jewels. Bro. Cecil Hagerman of Madoc Lodge, received a 50 year jewel. Past Grand jewels were also presented to Bros. Allan Treverton and Harold Sandford of the Madoc Lodge. Bro. Wes Farrell and Sister Eva Farrell were congratulated for 50 years as Rebekahs.

Grand Master Bro. John Savage addressed

the meeting and reminded us of the aid given to eye research and other worthy causes. He pointed out that in the 165 years since the Order was established on this continent, some $300 million has been given to various charities and good works.

During the evening Sister Karen Bailey sang several songs and Russell Brownson played his guitar and sang.

We thank the ladies of the Anglican Church, for the very delicious meal enjoyed by everyone.

Madoc WI meets

Last Friday, February 15, the Madoc Women's Institute and their guests from the neighboring Institutes of Cooper, Eldorado, Ivanhoe, Harts-Riggs, Marmora and Queensboro enjoyed a clear, informative talk on life insurance given by Mrs. Sandra Valks of Belleville.

She pointed out that many people still do not have much insurance. Statistics show that in the 1980s, 63 per cent of the people over age 65 are dependent. Almost all the men over sixty-five, who had failed, admitted that they did not have a plan for saving and spending. Mrs. Valks urged all women, as well as their husbands, to have a will.

Four special guests at this meeting were the winners of an Essay Competition on "My Dream of Peace" or "Water For A Thirsty World" which was sponsored by the WIs in this immediate area and was open to children aged 12 to 14 years. Our District President, Mrs. Dorothy Lees, presented the prizes as follows: first ($40) to Linda Stiles of Marmora; second ($30) to Kim Ramsay of Queensboro; third ($20) to Danny Brownson of Marmora; fourth ($10) to Jim Barrons of Springboro.

Here are excerpts from the two top essays: "My Dream of Peace"

"Before we can have a whole world of peace, we have to have peace within ourselves...in our homes...with our friends. Then we could approach our government to get peace with our neighboring country, the U.S.A...to destroy all atomic and nuclear bombs and missiles..." "Water for a Thirsty World"...Can you imagine being without water for a week or perhaps even a month? Without water none can survive for more than a few days...In Africa, 24 countries have been struck by severe drought causing crop failures, human and livestock deaths...More people are becoming aware of the dangers of contaminated water...Why don't YOU start thinking about it..."

Mrs. Jean Scott will convene the March meeting. The topic and the place will be announced later.

Bowl for Millions update

BY PATTI DUNFORD

The Bowl for Millions fund raising event in Madoc was a great success. Organizers of the event were pleased with the turnout of bowlers, sponsors and donors. The goal was set at $2500 and about $3500 was raised. There are still some pledge sheets to be accounted for so the total may rise some more.

top fundraiser in Centre Hastings with pledges amounting to $850. If this is the case, he will be the grand prize winner of the trip for two to Toronto's Inn on the Park, one of the Four Season's hotels with $100 spending money.

So far, in Madoc, it seems that Cathy Cole is the top lady fundraiser with $275.10 and the top male fundraiser prize could be won by either Matthew Czap or Dayle Harris with pledges close to $120 each.

However, be sure that pledge sheets and money are handed in at the Toronto Dominion Bank in Madoc or the Big Brothers/Big Sisters office by March 15, 1985, to be eligible for the many prizes donated by local businesses.

Thankyou Madoc for your support.

What to do when it rains - inside

By now most people know a well insulated, energy efficient house is a good investment. Come autumn, homeowners eager to cash in on energy savings converge on local hardware stores, intent on finding the latest in weatherization materials. But after stuffing insulation into their roofs and caulking and weatherstripping offending cracks, a few of those homeowners could wind up with a vexatious problem: surface condensation.

Surface condensation is like a soft rain on your walls and windows, only it's inside instead of outside the house. It happens when warm, moist air strikes a cooler surface and can result in anything from bleeding windows and sweating walls to mildew, plaster damage and wood rot.

Preventing surface condensation is a complex matter. Because the problems are individual, the solutions vary. Some of the more obvious causes of condensation in the home are described below, with a few tips on how to fight back.

Understanding how moisture or water vapour acts in a house is essential to its control. Water vapour is like a gas; air movement carries it from room to room. But sometimes vapour will migrate on its own, always from areas of high vapour pressure to areas of lower pressure. Vapour barriers are used to control such spontaneous migration in new buildings.

For any level of air moisture (relative humidity), there is a surface temperature, of a wall or window, at which condensation will not form. When you go beyond that humidity level or lower the surface temperature, condensation may occur.

The first thing to do is take note of just where the condensation is occurring. Often it is only on windows and exterior walls, which tend to be too cool for the relative humidity in the air next to them. You can combat the problem either by: decreasing the humidity or moisture level of the air (the cheapest solution); or increasing the surface temperatures of the walls and windows.

A relative humidity gauge or hygrometer can help determine where high moisture levels are occurring in the house. Some major sources of moisture are: unvented cooking, bathing or showering with the window closed and door open (a family or four can introduce the equivalent of two gallons of water per day into the atmosphere), watering plants, hanging clothes, venting a clothes dryer indoors (not recommended) and running a humidifier.

Ventilation Helps Reduce Humidity

In each of these instances, the key to decreasing the unwanted moisture is to reduce overall moisture production and then ensure adequate ventilation. Exhaust fans are useful in windowless, high moisture level rooms such as kitchens and bathrooms. Opening windows just a crack while steaming food or showering will also help

If decreasing the moisture level doesn't work, you may have to consider increasing the surface temperatures of the offending walls and windows. A cool wall could be due to infiltration of cold, outside air, indicating an air leakage problem. Adding a heating register along the offending wall could make all the difference. If there is a register, check that it is not partially closed, blocked, or too small.

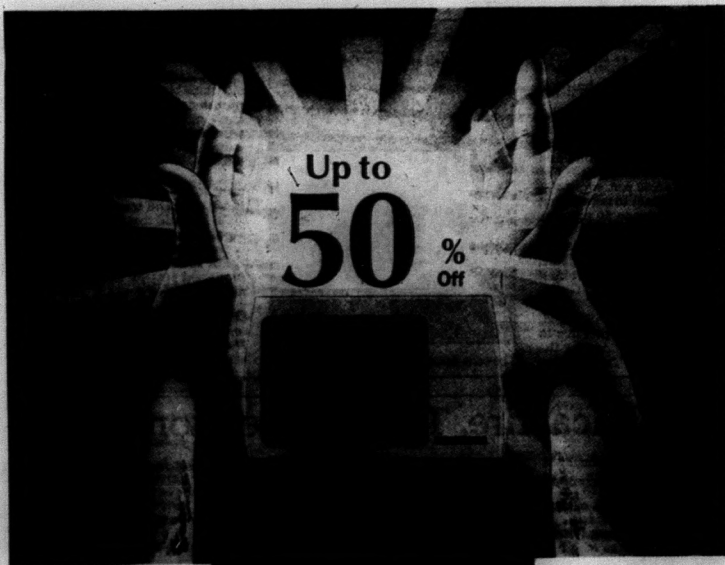

Like the walls, wetness on the windows, or bleeding, results when the cold glass causes condensation of the moisture in the air in the room. Adding a second layer of glass or plastic can help solve the problem.

Condensation becomes more complex when it's found in the attic. Attic condensation often occurs in the well insulated, poorly sealed and vented home, the result of the popular misconception: insulation stops air leaks. It doesn't. Insulation simply slows down the flow of heat. To stop leaks you must caulk and weatherstrip.

If extra insulation is added before air leaks are properly plugged, the warm moist air from inside the house seeps into the cooler, insulated attic and deposits its moisture content. A serious and expensive headache, attic condensation not only reduces the effectiveness of the insulation, it can also cause wood rot and ruin plaster ceilings. The best solution is proper attic venting. A general rule of thumb calls for one square foot of vent for every 300 square feet of attic area.

Check the Temperature During Spring and Fall

Over-zealous energy conservation can sometimes aggravate condensation problems. When the temperature drops, so does the air's ability to hold moisture. Setting the thermostat back too far at night, when windows and walls are at their coldest, increases the probability of condensation forming. If you notice excessive moisture on windows or walls, try a smaller nighttime setback, say 3 degrees Celsius, especially in the spring and fall when the outside air is damp.

Another handy weapon in the fight against condensation is a furnace fan. If your system can accommodate it, continuous running at a low speed will help even the distribution of heat and humidity through the house.

If you do have mildew stained walls, scrub them with diluted household laundry bleach, mixed in a three-to-one ratio of water to bleach and then wipe the mixture off with water. Remember to follow the instructions for using the bleach.

Surface condensation

can be serious but relatively few well-insulated houses are plagued by problem condensation. Don't let slim odds deter you from a good bet. Seal your house this winter; the savings on heating bills are worth it.

Pyke elected

At Hull OFA meeting

The first vice-president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture (OFA), Brigid Pyke, has been elected first vice-president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture (CFA). The election took place recently at the CFA's annual meeting in Hull, Quebec.

"This is going to be a really busy year for me," said Pyke, a 38-year old dairy farmer from Wolfe Island, who will not relinquish her duties on the OFA executive. "I have no intention of abandoning the Ontario cause. The OFA has intensified its lobbying efforts in the past few years, and we need a strong, federal counterpart." She said a well-organized "federal approach to farm lobbying" is in the interests of Ontario's farmers as well.

Pyke said the CFA has structural problems which must be dealt with immediately. Several of the OFA's counterparts in other provinces are having financial and membership problems, and those are reflected in the national organization. "The OFA is one of the strongest groups in the CFA, and I hope some of our strength and experience can be used by the CFA," Pyke said.

by Ken Yarrow

Canadian National Railways is to close the Madoc spur and remove all rails etc. This spur enters Huntingdon Township at concession 2 and travels its full length 12.5 miles. In the course of the right of way are large areas of prime farmland severed into difficult and hard to work sections by the R.R. Much of this acreage contains expensive tile drainage, put there to increase productivity and lower the cost of food production. Farmers did not object to the line as long as it formed an absolutely necessary part of the local economic and survival package. That has now been replaced by more efficient and monetarily viable means of transportation.

In today's struggle to feed the world's population and with prime agriculture land disappearing at an alarming rate what better use can be found that is more beneficial to more people than the production of food at reasonable rates.

With these things in mind and the knowledge that the land will be turned back to the Prov. of Ont., a letter expressing our concerns has been sent to Mr. Roy Powell of Canadian National Railways.

An excerpt from the Huntingdon Township council shows a resolution has been passed that council is in favour of returning the abandoned railway bed to the abutting landowners. Letters were sent to MP Jack Ellis and MPP Jim Pollock.

Mr. Pollock has advised council that he is in complete agreement with council's resolution regarding the Madoc spur. Mr. Ellis has sent a letter indicating support for council's resolution.

This matter will be addressed at the monthly OFA directors meeting in Toronto by your local reps.

Don't forget the revamped annual banquet and dance in Stirling on March 8. Tickets available from committee members Brian Kerby, Bill Largsafield, Linda Farrel, Ken Yarrow.

a 'welcome opportunity to work on federal issues which affect Ontario farmers and are a priority of the OFA.'

Pyke started getting involved with farm organizations on a local level over ten years ago. 'I'm committed to the job of improving the status and financial viability of the farmer and now I have the chance to do something on both the national and provincial levels,' she said.

Pyke has been on the OFA's executive committee for four years and is a former director of the Frontenac County Federation of Agriculture. She is a member of the Advisory Board of the Canadian Livestock Feed Board, is a research member of the Foundation for Rural Living, and charter member of the Ford Agricultural Women's Council.

She and her husband Bob form part of a partnership which runs a 500-head dairy operation on 1,700 acres in Gananoque and Olffe Island. They have three children, and Pyke said her family "is very supportive" of her new responsibilities.

Huntingdon Twp. Council meets

The regular meeting of the council of the Township of Huntingdon was held at the Township Hall at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, February 11, 1985, with all members in attendance.

The meeting was called to order and opened with a prayer by Reeve Franks.

Moved by Eric MacMillan, seconded by Walton Reid, "That By-Law 2129-85 being a by-law to appoint a Committee of Adjustment for the Township of Huntingdon and to fix remuneration for its members, receive three readings and be passed." Carried.

Moved by Owen Ketcheson, seconded by Ken Yarrow, "That By-Law 2130-85, being a by-law to authorize the execution of an agreement between the Corporation of the Township of Huntingdon and the Corporation of the County of Hastings, providing for the collection of tax arrears and the power to sell land, receive three readings and be passed." Carried.

Moved by Walton Reid, seconded by Eric MacMillan, "That By-Law 2132-85 being a by-law to authorize the borrowing of $100,000 receive three readings and be passed." Carried.

Moved by Owen Ketcheson, seconded by Ken Yarrow, "That By-Law 2133-85, being a by-law to prescribe a tariff of fees for the processing of planning applications by the council or the Committee of Adjustment, receive three readings and be passed." Carried.

Bill Palmateer attended the meeting to present council with a petition, signed by 83 citizens of the area concerned with the use of on-land snares and traps in the Township of Huntingdon. Mr. Palmateer explained that snares and traps are killing, injuring and maiming residents' dogs and cats. It was felt that these trapping methods also pose a threat to snowmobilers, skiers, and outdoors people in general. The petition was presented to council in the hope of having the use of land snares and land traps banned in the Township of Huntingdon.

Moved by Owen Ketcheson, seconded by Ken Yarrow, "That council concurs with the petition received and that the Clerk be instructed to check on legislation available to regulate at the township or county level." Carried.

Pat Gallagher, Fire Operations Manager with the Ministry of Natural Resources, attended the meeting to discuss the Forest Fire Protection Agreement between the Ministry and the Township. Mr. Gallagher explained that under the Forest Fires Prevention Act, the municipality is reimbursed 100 per cent for costs incurred while fighting fires on Crown lands. The Forest Fire Protection Agreement, which was signed some years ago, provides for a cost sharing on fires which occur on private land. The municipality is reimbursed 50 per cent of costs to fight grass, bush and forest fires.

When Fire Department equipment is used, the following rates will apply for 1985: tanker or pumper $50 per hour, vans or trucks - rate per km.

portable power pump - $8.50 per hour. Councillor Yarrow declared a possible conflict of interest and refrained from voting or discussion on the following item of business.

Severance application B18-85 - David Mullins, Part Lot 4, Conc. 2, was presented to council for approval. Moved by Owen Ketcheson, seconded by Ken Yarrow, "That council recommend consent be granted to severance application B18-85 - David Mullins and that $100 lot levy be collected." Carried.

Moved by Eric MacMillan, seconded by Owen Ketcheson, "That Pitney-Bowes be contacted to arrange for a demonstration of a postage meter with a scaler." Carried.

An invoice was received from the Village of Tweed for $552.62, representing 22 per cent of the total invoice received from Totten, Sims, Hubicki Associates for engineering services. They have also advised that an application has been made to the Ministry of the Environment for funding to under take an area waste management study.

Moved by Ken Yarrow, seconded by Eric MacMillan, "That prior to the approval of the invoice received from Totten, Sims, Hubicki Associates, and payment of the same, that council wishes to advise all participating municipalities of their objections to the fee being charged and that consideration be given to not paying the account." tions to the Scrivens' Retirement Home reverting back to a Group Home." Carried.

Correspondence was received from Douglas Robson advising that all his municipal business has been sold to OME Insurance Brokers Limited.

Correspondence was received from the Minister of the Environment with comments regarding the "Blueprint for Waste Management" and council's endorsement of the resolution from the Village of Zurich.

Moved by Walton Reid, seconded by Owen Ketcheson, "That correspondence received from Douglas Robson and the Minister of the Environment be received and filed." Carried.

Correspondence was received from the Centre Hastings Community Corrections outlining the services they offer and requesting a donation to help cover expenses.

Moved by Ken Yarrow, seconded by Owen Ketcheson, "That the township donate $50 to the Centre Hastings Community Corrections." Carried.

Correspondence was read from the Moira Lake Cottagers Association regarding the recent closing of the old North Hastings Railway Line operated by Canadian National. The Association feels that if work were to be done to remove the trestle over Highway 62 and straighten the highway, it would be an ideal time to install an adequate channel between the east and west basins of Moira Lake. A world beneath the snow

In an eerie world, faintly lit by blue-green rays, life is a collection of the bizarre. Strange beasts, lined on each side with a dozen or more oar-like legs, row along in slow motion. Their prey appears dazed. Some motionless, as though in suspended animation. Others wandering aimlessly, some in-built sense forbidding them from eating. Majestic flowers, already perfectly formed in miniature, sit tightly furled in nondescript capsules, awaiting the animator that will release their beauty. Ravenous monsters feed, breed and even flourish. Still bigger monsters race through the catacombs, dismembering and devouring monster after monster. 'Gargantuan' beasts, capable of devouring both, lay nearby in a stupor, their breath crystallizing as a jewel encrusted case upon all it touches. It's a balmy 0 deg. C. for weeks upon end.

tion, this real-world lays all around us. The filling-in-the-sandwich between deep soil and frigid snow, it's a world that few of us ever glimpse. Yet, for those who'll pause to contemplate it, this sandwich holds both drama and wisdom.

Much more than 'cold white stuff', our snow cover is a magnificent blanket, essential to the very survival of countless species of plants and animals. An intricate, self-sealing lattice of ice crystals and huge volumes of entrained air, it insulates superbly. More than that, it hides plants and animals from would-be predators. It gently protects from winter's violence. It even nourishes.

Above the snow, temperatures cross the freezing point several times a day, dozens of times a winter. And fluctuations occur suddenly, as the temperature bounces from plus-5 to -20, -50 or below. Few organisms can take either rapid or frequent freeze-thaw cycles, or the extreme cold. Tissues simply freeze. Their cells torn apart by frost, they disintegrate into mere blobs of lifeless material.

A few birds and mammals - equipped with remarkable insulation and in-built heat engines - find enough food energy to keep them going in the frigid air. Others head south.

But the vast majority rely, instead, upon snow. Many hibernate beneath it - like the snakes, bear and skunks described above as "gargantuan beasts". Others - like the meadow vole "dragons" - find snow a warm and effective cover from hawks and owls, under which to tunnel, feed and breed. Weasels of every description - the "still larger dragons" - race through the subnivean caverns, devouring prey. Woodland wildflowers - the trilliums and hepaticas, ginger and orchids that we will admire come spring - are gently maturing at even temperature, just above freezing. And the bizarre invertebrates - upon which almost everything depends - await spring in suspended animation, or slow-motion march.

Next time you gaze across that barren, desolate landscape, pause a moment to contemplate. Beneath that snow - indeed, thanks to it - rich and vibrant life continues, awaiting spring.

Stirling Novice Blues win B championship

On Saturday, February 23, the Dairy Queen Novice Blues travelled to Havelock for tournament play and came home winners of the B Championship.

In the opening game, Stirling was defeated in a 1-0 hockey game against Warkworth, placing us on the B side. Congratulations to a fine defenceman Darryl Dafoe who was presented with the MVP award and game star.

Due to having the lowest goals against average, Stirling earned a bye into the semi-final and their second game of the day. In a strong and evenly matched game Stirling defeated Picton 2-1.

Trevor Cooney scored both Stirling goals with assists going to Kris Bateman 2, Trevor Spry

1, and Matthew Cooke 1. Congratulations to Trevor Cooney who was presented with the MVP award.

The boys were ready to play hockey and so they did which proved to be their best team effort of the season, facing Norwood in the final game and coming out champions with a

5-1 victory. As the players stood at attention to the singing of our national anthem the tension was present and so was the cheering of parents which continued to the final seconds of play. Stirling's goals were scored by Trevor Cooney 2, Greg Barr, Kris Bateman and John

Clegg. Assists were earned by Kael Pollard 2, Greg Barr, Trevor Cooney, Darryl Dafoe, Pat Jeffs, John Clegg and Matthew Cooke.

Hats off to our goalies, Greg Woodbeck and Mike Dragnet for a superb tournament allowing only three goals in all games, the lowest goals against

Congratulations to a super defenceman, Scott Haines and goalie Mike Dragnet on being named game stars and to Darryl Dafoe on earning his second MVP award of the tournament.

Hastings ringette tourney

On Sunday, Feb. 17th, the Hastings Belles hosted a four-team ringette tournament with Lindsay, Whitby and Warkworth joining the home team.

In the first game, Warkworth outplayed Hastings to a 7-0 score.

The second game of the afternoon was late starting due to poor driving conditions.

However, once under way, this game was a close match-up of the Lindsay and Whitby teams.

The score was 4-3 for Whitby at the end of the first period and both teams added one goal apiece in the second period.

Lindsay played Hastings for the consolation title. The home team passed the ring much better in this game, but came up on the short end of a 10-4 score.

Barb Wellman scored three of those goals, while Susan Roddy added a single. Assists were credited to Karen Lynch, Karen Sullivan, Donna Clark, Susan and Barb.

The championship game saw Warkworth and Whitby matched against each other. This was an excellent game with both teams having good scoring chances.

However, the Warkworth netminder, Carrie Dickson, helped her short-handed team by playing very well and they won by a 6-2 score.

Our thanks go to the local branch of the

The Hastings Juniors played host to Warkworth on Wed., Feb. 20th. This was a well-played game with the score tied at 3-3 at the end of the first period. Tammy Wanna-maker, Leanna Beavis and Karen Sullivan each scored one.

In the second period, Leanna and Karen each scored again. Jennifer Scudis added two and Patti Cawker added one with less than a minute remaining in the game.

Madoc Pee Wee B's won their league opener play-off game 5-4 against Marmora.

They jumped into an early 4-0 lead before Marmora found the mark with their first. Goals were scored by Pat Graham; Wesley Cromwell Gordon Preston and Joe Kehoe for Madoc and by Glen Kelsh for Marmora.

At 4:39 of the second Kehoe scored his second to put Madoc into a 5-1 lead. This proved to be the eventual winner. Marmora added three unanswered goals by Glen Kelsh (2) for the hat trick and Kevin Nobes. Assists for Madoc were Pat Graham (2) and Craig Hill, Pat Mahoney, Robbie Lake, Jeff Wiggins and Dale Sager with singles Casey Price, Kevin Nobes, Kevin Maloney and Glen Kelsh had assists for Marmora.

In league play on Saturday previous, Madoc defeated Tweed by scores of 12-1 and Belleville Y's Men 4-3 in exhibition play. In the Tweed game, Madoc was ahead from the drop of the puck. Jeff Wiggins opened the scoring at 15:50, assisted by Mark Richardson. Five minutes later Joe Kehoe scored unassisted with the game winners.

Tweed was held scoreless until 6:30 of the third. Scoring for Madoc were Kehoe, Pat Graham and Dale Sager with two and Jeff Wiggins, Pat Mahoney, Wesley Cromwell, Craig Hill, Robbie Trevelton and Gordon Preston with singles. Assists to Mike Gorlah (3), Gordon Preston (2), Robbie Trevelton (2), Pat Mahoney (2), Jeff Wiggins (2), Kehoe (1), Cromwell (1) Sager (1) and Mark Richardson (1).

By 13:17 of the second Madoc had jumped into a 3-0 lead on goals by Pat Graham unassisted, Kehoe from Mark Richardson and Gordon Preston from Robbie Trevelton and Pat Mahoney. However three unanswered goals by Belleville set up the tie situation. Final score of game was 4-3 for Madoc.

Pee wee B's win playoff opener

The Nordic Cresting Novice tournament took place at the Havelock Arena on Saturday, February 23rd. Ten teams took part: Bancroft, Frankford, Stirling, Tweed, Warkworth, Picton, Norwood, Omemee, Douro and the Havelock boys.

The tournament opened up with Havelock defeating Norwood by a score of 10 goals to 3.

Scorers for Havelock were: Adam Levesque 4, Cory Holland 2, Chris White 1, Kevin Larmer 1 and 2 assists, Bryce Levesque 1, Cal Larmer 1, with assists in the game going to Eric Wilson and Jason Stockdale.

Replying for Norwood: Chris Heffernan with 2, and Ryan Sedgwick 1.

MVPs of the game were Cory Holland, Havelock, and Chris Heffernan, Norwood.

The next game saw Tweed get past Douro by a score of 3-1. In the following game Frankford defeated Omemee by 4-0. Then came Warkworth and Stirling in a very exciting game. Warkworth squeaked out a 1-0 victory. The final game of the first round saw Bancroft defeat Picton by a score of 2-1.

This set the stage for the A championship round and the B championship. Winners all going to A were Havelock, Tweed, Frankford, Warkworth and Bancroft. The five losers in the B side were Norwood, Omemee, Stirling, Douro and Picton. Havelock received a bye because of goal difference and on the B side Stirling received a bye.

The A playoff round began when Tweed was beaten out of the tournament by Frankford who won with a 5-1 score. The other game saw Warkworth beat Bancroft with very little difficulty, the score being 8-0. This put Warkworth through to the Championship A final.

Semi-final action took place with Frankford and the local Nordic Cresting battling out a real nail-biter, the locals coming out on top with a score of 2 goals to zip, and going on to the final against Warkworth. Scorers for Havelock were Adam Levesque and Cal Larmer. MVP in the game for Havelock went to a very deserving goalie, Mike Buchanan and for Frankford, Kevin Bamber.

The final was set and what splendid hockey was produced by each team - a real see-saw affair. Havelock went on the score sheet first with a goal from Cory Holland, that was short lived when Chris McCleary tied it up for Warkworth. Adam Levesque put Havelock ahead again. Then two goals by Simon Sherry of Warkworth put them in front, but the Nordic Cresting boys kept working hard and Bryce Levesque tied it at 3 and then the winner for Havelock was put in the net by Cal Larmer. What a thriller! If you were not there you really missed a super hockey game. Unfortunately there is only one MVP per game but with this performance every boy on the Havelock team deserved one. MVP for Havelock was Cal Larmer and for Warkworth, Chris Mc-

Cleary. The B championship was just as exciting with Stirling receiving the bye to the semi-finals. Norwood defeated Omemee by a score of 7-3 and Picton, tipped past Douro with a score of 2-1. Norwood advanced to the final and Stirling and Picton fought it out to reach the final with Stirling coming out on top by a score of 2-1.

The final saw Stirling defeat Norwood by a score of 5-1. MVP for Stirling, Greg Barr, and for Norwood, Jon Quinlan.

The tournament director, Dennis Wilson, would like to thank Gary and Madeline Jefferies (Nordic Cresting-Elite Trophies) for their donation of all the trophies. Super job! Also the MVP sponsors, Hotel Havelock, J&L Gulf and Havelock Glass, the Minor Hockey executive, Tim Horton's (Peterborough), not for getting Harold Adley and Darren Babcock and Garth Wilson for their help on the time clock and all those parents who helped by donating their time.

last Sunday against Campbellford Merchant Blues. Doug Reid

of 7-4, and took the first round playoff series, four games to two. This week Hurricanes start round two against Gannanque G-Men.

Stirling Novice Blues defeated 3-1

The Dairy Queen Novice Blues travelled to Bancroft for their last regular league game of the season on Saturday, February 16, coming home defeated by a 3-1 score.

Stirling put the first score on the scoreboard midway in the second period as John Clegg fired in his first goal of the season with Trevor Cooney earning the assist. With 26 seconds remaining in the second period, Bancroft fired in the tying goal with two more in the third to clinch the win.

Stirling's goalie Greg Woodbeck who played two full periods was spectacular as was Bancroft's goalie Greg Robinson, who made save after save on Stirling and kept them off the scoreboard for the remainder of the game.

The Novice Blues started their playoff schedule on Tuesday, Feb. 19th, and had to settle for a 1-1 tie with Madoc. Scoring Stirling's only goal was Kris Cooney picking up the assist. Congratulations to goalies Dale Kalher and Mike Dragert who were named the game stars.

On Wednesday, Feb. 20th, Stirling travelled to Tweed and once again settled for a tie in a scoreless hockey game.

Tweed's goalie Colin Brook was sensational and was determined to keep Stirling off the scoreboard and so he did. Congratulations to Kael Pollard on being named the game star.

On Friday, Feb. 22, Stirling travelled to Madoc coming home defeated 3-2.

Scoring for Stirling was Greg Barr with his 40th goal of the season and Neil Watson with Greg Barr and Matthew Cooke each earning one assist. Congratulations to Greg Barr who was named game star.

Madoc Atoms win league playoffs

Madoc Atoms have won their league championship by defeating Colborne 7-5 to win the series 2 games to 0. They now boast a record of 19 games without a loss in league and playoff games.

Unlike the first game of this series, Madoc had no easy task for the victory. Madoc scored twice in the first on goals by Scott Tracey and Tim Bailey. Assistants went to Brad Phillips and Tom Burnside on Tracey's goal and to Derek Davidson on Bai-

In the second, Madoc saw this lead disappear as Colborne scored twice to tie the score. However Phillips and Chad Bateman put Madoc back into a two goal lead by the end of the second.

Early in the third Colborne again had the score tied. At 4:58 Phillips netted his second of the game ur-assisted to put Madoc one up. At 1:35 he scored from Bailey, what eventually proved to be the winning goal. Colborne added their fifth at 1:02 but seven seconds later, Tim Bailey scored unassisted to put Madoc back into a two goal lead. This was how the game ended.

Madoc now awaits the winner of the Norwood-Warkworth series.

Hastings Ringette trounces Madoc 15-3

Ringette News [Sunday games]

The Hastings Petites hosted Madoc on Sunday afternoon and won by a 15-3 score. Rhonda MacMillan scored 8, while Jennifer Dwyer and Karen McColl scored three apiece and Jennifer Rogers added a single. Janice Beavis, Shawna McCoy, Angie Wood, Krista Fleming, Jennifer Rogers, Rhonda and Karen were all credited with assists. Mary Brownson scored all three goals for Madoc.

The second game between the Junior teams was a very close one. We added three Petites to the lineup because of the shortage of regular players for this game. By the half-way point in the game, we were ahead 4-2 on goals by Jennifer Scudds (2), Karen McColl and Leanna Beavis. Leanna, Karen Sullivan and Karen McColl each added a single in the second period. The goal scorers were set up by all of these girls and also Patti Cawker, Kristina Lynch and Janice Beavis.

Madoc goals were scored by Andrea Peters (3), Michelle Devolin (2), Leanna Phillips and Leanne Empey. Madoc scored three of these goals in the last four minutes of the game to tie up the score at 7-7.

As this was the last scheduled encounter this season between these two teams, we decided not to go into overtime so that we finished on a happy note for everyone.

EACH DAY

Many mothers complain that their children's shoes simply do not last. They fall apart when they get wet. Or the soles separate from the uppers under vigorous - and sometimes not so vigorous - wear.

Some facts may surprise you. For instance, a healthy 7 year old boy may easily take around 30,000 steps every day. That's about 10 miles a day, 300 or so a month. And if the boy weighs about 55 pounds, he's putting 800 tons of weight on his shoes every day (55 pounds times 30,000 steps). So you can see why research specialists at the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture estimate that those new shoes will probably average only about ten weeks of active life. And don't count on a girl putting much less wear and tear on shoes!

They opened the tournament with a 6-1 loss to Ecule Realty of Peterborough. Dale Sager counted the only goal, with assists going to Joe Kehoe and Jeff Wiggins.

Their second game matched them against Lakefield. A game which proved an easy contest as the locals skated away with a 9-3 decision.

Wesley Cromwell, Pat Graham and Joe Kehoe each scored twice with singles going to Dale Sager, Gordon Preston and Craig Hill. Assists went to Jeff Wiggins with three, Sager with two, Kehoe with two and Graham with one.

This victory allowed them the right to play Earle Realty again for the A Championship. The game proved to be different from the first, as there was no score until 7:05 of the second when Peterborough scored their only goal. Pat Graham tied it for Madoc at 3:41 unassisted. The winning goal was scored at 1:31 of the period by Joe Kehoe, assisted by Wesley Cromwell.

The teams played a scoreless third period for a final score of 2-1 for Madoc. A true Championship game. Congratulations boys. Keep those victories coming.

Polaris 3 - Crookston 1
Despite the fact that both teams were without their full lines, the first period was scoreless.

It wasn't until 1:04 of the second period that Jim Tokarewicz scored for Polaris, assisted by Larry Jones.

Polaris was first to score at 13:10 of the third period on a goal by Tony Bronson, assisted by Jim Tokarewicz. Crookston came back, although desperately short of players, with a goal from Blake Reeves, assisted by Ray Stanfield. The final goal was scored by Jim Tokarewicz at 6:53, assisted by Tony Bronson and Gary Forbes.

The total penalty minutes were 13 for Crookston and ten for Polaris. The MVPs were Paul Lomas (Polaris) and Ron Denike (Crookston).
